GOOD FAITH IS HARDING'S PLAN, INOUE TELLS TOKIO

Military Attache Comes From Washington Full Of Peace Talk

NOT UNDERHAND

Scores Japanese Doubters Perpetrating Injustice Beyond Pardon

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 16.—Major-General Kazutsugu Inoue, Military Attache to the Japanese Embassy at Washington, who has just returned from his post, says in an interview with the representative of the Osaka Jiji:

"I have been in America for the past three years. The business world in the United States has had its share of depression, though, perhaps, in a less degree than in Japan, and President Harding therefore desires to maintain a negative policy in his administration, the most effective means for which he finds to be restriction of Armament.

"Under these circumstances the Washington conference has been called with entire good faith as far as Mr. Harding is concerned. It is an unpardonable injustice to read, as some Japanese do, underhand motives into the American proposal for the conference.

WOOD IS CIVILIAN

"Another misimpression that appears to prevail among some thinking Japanese is shown in their interpretation of American motives in the appointment of General Wood as Governor-General of the Philippines. The General's appointment bears no military significance whatever, which will be readily understood when it is remembered that the Republicans must be expected to do something to honor the General, who at first received a greater number of votes than Mr. Harding in the Republican convention. Another fact that makes the General's appointment quite natural is his administrative tact and his unusual knowledge of the Philippines.

"Both in Japan and America there is much talk of American-Japanese estrangement, and even the possibility of hostilities. This is all due to the ceaseless propaganda of the Hearst papers.

JAPANESE ON WAY

Tokio, Oct. 15.—Prince Tokugawa, Admiral Baron Kato, and Mr. Hanihara, Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs, and other members of the Japanese delegation to Washington, as well as the business mission to Europe except Takuma Dan, sailed today on the Kashima Maru. They were bidden farewell by big crowds.

The accommodation of the Kashima Maru was mostly occupied by people sailing for Washington.. Mr. Dan will sail on the Empress of Russia.

All Shanghai Gives Warm Welcome To THE EVENING STAR

Sikh Officer No. 408, who, red-turbaned and bushy-bearded, wields a potent wand at the corner of Nanking Road and the Bund was a sorely distressed gentleman during the late afternoon hours yesterday. A block down the street, his partner, No. 57, was no less embarrassed. On a score of other corners throughout downtown Shanghai, other guardians of the law were scratching their heads in equally perturbed manner. Chaos seemed to have struck their ordinarily well-regulated spheres of influence with a bang.

With nerve-racking irregularity, ricsha coolies bumped and jostled about, then came to abrupt halts regardless of other traffic. Quick commands from occupants of automobiles brought cars to a skidding snail's pace on the slippery pavements. Carriage-drivers, pedestrians, anxious-to-be straphangers in the trams, all seemed to have developed a most extraordinary faculty for stopping, staring, buying.

Scurrying everywhere were rain-coated boys, their arms clutching bundles of newspapers, their varying-pitched voices crying out one syllable which might have been anything but in reality was intended to be "Star."

THE EVENING STAR, Shanghai's newest newspaper had made its first appearance on the streets of Shanghai. And Shanghai's delight was intensified by surprise that an evening paper, containing all the news of the day and many features beside, could actually be produced by 4:30 o'clock, in time to be an evening paper.

In offices and hotel lobbies, the appearance of THE EVENING STAR was no less a subject for comment than on the streets. At 4:30 o'clock, boys began covering offices throughout the business district. Business men were agreeably pleased to see that the newest newspaper carried among other real news full closing exchange quotations.

The lobbies of the principal hotels at 5 o'clock in the evening were literally immersed in copies of THE STAR. Every chair was occupied by a reader, buried deep in the day's news.

THE EVENING STAR had made its appearance. And Shanghai was not long in learning about it.

HUNDREDS PAY FINAL TRIBUTE TO MISS COPPOCK

Many Foreigners And Chinese Attend Last Rites For Y.W.C.A. Leader

Hundreds of men and women, both foreign and Chinese, gathered at the Union Church Sunday afternoon to pay a last tribute of respect to the late Miss Grace L. Coppock, general secretary of the National Young Woman's Christian Association, whose death occurred early Saturday following an operation.

The English services at the church were conducted by the Rev. Ernest D. Burton, of the University of Chicago, who had known Miss Coppock and her splendid work in China for twelve years. Dr. Cheng Ching-yi, of the China Continuation Committee, delivered a eulogy in Chinese.

Following the services at the church, more than 200 attended the final services in Bubbling Well Cemetery, where Miss Coppock's remains were buried beside those of Miss Marie Belleville, former Y. M. C. A. secretary, who died here three years ago.

Harbor Experts Are Dined By Conservancy Boards Who Work On Shanghai Problem

Major General Black Emphasises Importance Of City As Trade Center Not Only For China's Sake But That Of Whole World

"Shanghai has the possibility of becoming one of the greatest ports of the world. The port of Shanghai, if properly developed, will be a most important factor in the development of China, and so will add to the development of the world, for the world needs China as China needs the world."——Major General W. M. Black, formerly Chief of Engineers of the U. S. Army and member of the Committee of Consulting Engineers here to take up the problem of Shanghai's harbor development.

Chinese and foreign officials, shipping men, prominent business men and other vitally interested in the expansion of Shanghai's facilities as an ocean port gathered at the Astor House last evening at a dinner given in welcome to the body of distinguished engineers who have assembled from various great countries of the world to consider the problem of the city's harbor development.

Well over 150 guests were present at the banquet, which was tendered by the Whangpoo Conservancy and the Whangpoo Conservancy Consultative Boards in honor of the visiting experts: Major General W. M. Black, representing America; Dr. I. Hiroi, representing Japan; Mr. P. G. Hornell, representing the Chinese Chambers of Commerce; Mr. P. J. Ott de Vries, representing Holland; Mr. F. Palmer, of Great Britain and Mr. L. Perrier, of France and Mr. H. Von Heidenstam, ex-officio member.

The guests included the leading officials of all nationalities here—the Consular body, heads of the Councils and municipal departments of the two Settlements, shipping representatives and others, both foreign and Chinese.

COMMISSIONER PRESIDES

Mr. Hsu Yuan, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs and chairman of the Whangpoo Conservancy Board, presided and speeches were made by Mr. E. Gordon Lowder, Commissioner of Customs and a director of the Conservancy Board, Mr. C. Biron, agent of the Peninsular and Oriental Steamship Company and member of the Consultative Board, and by Major General Black, who heads the body now here to take up the task of passing upon the various schemes which have been put forward for improving the Shanghai harbor to the point where it will be able adequately to care for its ever increasing volume of shipping.

The members of the committee of consulting engineers, who had their first session here Saturday, will be taken tomorrow for a cruise along the coast to Hangchow Bay by steamer and following that will make many excursions on the inland waterways hereabouts in connection with their study of the question confronting them.

All of the speakers laid heavy emphasis on the importance of the work ahead, Major-General Black drawing attention to the world aspects of the matter in terms of the advance of civilisation toward which, he declared, the facilitation of transfer of world's products has a vital bearing.

The speeches of welcome were made by Mr. Lowder and Mr. Biron following Mr. Hsu's proposal of the toast to the president of the Republic.

CONGRATULATES CITY

Mr. Biron in his talk told the guests of the records of the visiting engineers, congratulating the city upon the acquisition in this matter of such eminent specialists. He laid stress upon the business aspect of the port's harber improvement.

"I need scarcely remind you," said Mr. Biron in conclusion, "of the important business aspects of the question which our guests have come to consider. Improved shipping accommodation means more and better shipping, rapid

Tls. 50,000 Start In Drive; 'Buried Treasure' Hunt Is Feature Of School Campaign

While subscriptions running to upwards Taels 50,000 for the American School fund were announced last night at the close of the first day of the campaign to raise Tls. 150,000 all interest among the school children of Shanghai has been centered on the treasure hunt which is a unique feature of the campaign.

The treasure hunt was announced yesterday at the tiffin of the team leaders directing the work of taking subscriptions. A check for $100, donated by THE EVENING STAR, has been buried by Principal W. W. Bartlett of the American School and the boy or girl who finds it will win the money.

According to the conditions of the treasure hunt the school children who search for it must stake out their claims and the one whose claim is nearest will be adjudged the winner in the event that the money is not discovered.

LOCATION OF TREASURE

Principal Bartlett has announced that the treasure has been hidden by him in the manner set forth as follows:

"I went out Avenue Joffre a long distance, then turned to the left. Two blocks further I turned to the right. One block further I turned again to the left and soon left the road, entering Chinese gardens.

"I climbed a grave, then retraced my steps, crossing a waterway. From here I followed a good path past gardens, following a waterway on the right. After a time this path led me to a waterway which I crossed on a stone bridge. The path continued, following a waterway on the right. After about 150 yards I turned about 60 degrees to the left and went through Chinese gardens for about 250 yards then turned to the right, taking a path parallel to the previous one.

"After 50 yards—turned at right angles to the left and went until I came to a new fence. I followed it for some distance and turned to the North, going three or four hundred yards and winding through a place where there were high bushes and plants. After skirting a waterway and going to the left to do so, following this waterway on my right for 50 yards, I turned to the left and after ten yards to the left again.

"After following this course for about 50 yards I turned again to the left going down through a dried up waterway, following a winding path with a fence at my right and then straight ahead to the place where I buried the treasure."

CONDITIONS GIVEN

According to the conditions of the search every foreign school boy or school girl may take part. Each of those who compete should be equipped with three stakes with full name written plainly on each stake. Three cornered claims are to be staked and no digging is to be permitted.

Another feature of the campaign is the 'Hashow' which is to be given by the boys of the High School dormitory of the American School tomorrow evening. This is an entertainment wholly novel in character that is to be staged at the Grace Baptist Church Auditorium on North Szechuen Road Extension. The prices of admission announced are: 10 cents for school children and 50 cents for adults. The proceeds are to be devoted to the American School fund.

As a part of the work of the campaign a pleasing detail that is to be added today will be a sale of homemade candy and salted nuts. The confections will be offered for sale to the general public today by girls of the American School at the Astor House, the Palace Hotel and at the American Drug Company's store from 9 to 11 o'clock this morning and from 4 to 7 o'clock this afternoon.

SOME FIRING IN BELFAST IS REPORT; MEN ARE KILLED

Shipyard Workers Murderered On Saturday, Minor Affrays Sunday

ORDER RESTORED

Protestants Are Given 48 Hours To Abandon Their Homes

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 17.—Messages from Belfast continue to report desultory firing in the streets there. Young Protestant shipyard workers were found murdered on Saturday evening while an official communique mentions two further minor affairs on Sunday, but order was restored with the arrival of Crown forces.

The communique adds that a number of threatening letters have been served to Protestants giving them 48 hours to quit their homes or be bombed.

INDEMNITIES PAID

London, October 17.—The Recorder of Cork has awarded £10,000 to the widow of Major Compton Smith, who was captured by Sinn Feiners while on a sketching expedition at Blarney in April and was subsequently shot.

Lord Casteemaine has been awarded £101,359 as compensation for the destruction of Moydrum Castle on July 3.

The widow of Brigadier-General Lambert, who was shot when returning from a tennis party on June 20, has been awarded £9,000.

GREECE HAS SIX TIMES FORMER AREA IN ASIA

(Reuter's Service)

Athens, Oct. 16.—The Chamber of Deputies, today by 227 votes out of 240 passed a vote of confidence in the Premier, M. Gounaris, who with the Foreign Minister, M. Baltazzis, accordingly embarked on a destroyer today for Brindisi en route for Rome, Paris and London to explain the views of Greece with regard to Asia Minor to the Governments of the Powers.

The Chamber was packed and there were large crowds outside. M. Gounaris in his speech, which was interrupted by frequent applause, stated that Greece now occupied six times as much territory in Asia Minor as was provided for in the Treaty of Sveres and almost the entire railway system, but in spite of the undoubted Greek superiority the enemy refused to submit.

Referring to the action of the "selfstyled Government of Constantinople," M. Gounaris said that he considered that the real Turkey was the Government of Angora. He said that Greece held a mandate from three of the Great Powers in Asia Minor but a more complete entente with than was necessary.

Real Lady Bountiful Saves Family From Starvation

MRS. Florita Rogovoy, a Lady Bountiful in real life, who harbored a homeless Italian family that she found starving in the street. This Italian family has been in America but a few months and cannot travel around New York without help. She went to visit a relative of hers living in New York and lost both the address of the relative and also the address of her home. She then boarded a subway train, and on her way out of the train she lost one of her sons, whom the police are still looking for. She was then found wandering about the streets, with her hagged-faced children. In this photo, with Mrs. Rogovoy, are the people whom she harbored. They are Mrs. Laura Peppino and her four children—Maria, Nicola, Antonina and Baby Ignacio.

Sardines Might Sit More Tight In American School

By Elsie McCormick

If you happen to be of the gender that always gets off a car backward, you probably went through a stage of devouring boarding-school stories en cassarole, an gratin, and on the half-shell.

They were usually the kind of tales in which Lucy, the heroine, comes in from the backwash, is persecuted through several chapters by the social leader of the school, comes into the good graces of the institution by rescuing a lame classmate in a dormitory fire, and graduates at last with a dainty high heel on the neck of the former Number One social clique, and the hint of a romance drawing in the offing. There were always several midnight suppers in the volume and at least one plagarised composition entered for a school prize. Most inevitably, however, if there can be degrees in inevitableness, was the constant reference to the "rambling buildings" and the effect of "an old-fashioned manor-house set among the pines."

Rambling buildings sound well in the Betty Wales books and the Little Colonel series, but as the site of a boarding-school in real life they are about as useful as the Woolworth Building would be with the elevator boys on strike. We happen to have a little inside and outside information on the subject, the result of a morning spent at the Shanghai American School. The institution is ladled out in nine buildings, all of which ramble more or less, though the greater part of the rambling is done by pupils in their efforts to track culture from lair to lair.

SOME PACKING THIS!

Add to that the fact that none of the buildings was constructed for school purposes, each one of them being an adapted dwelling-house, and you have a plant that would make ideal material for the Elsie Books, but which out of print, is considerably less intriguing. Crown the summary with 246 pupils, 92 of whom are boarders, and you have a further view of why the inside of a sardine can would look like a set of cabins de luxe in comparison.

Take the little matter of the chemistry laboratory, for instance. There are facilities for exactly eight students, and one of the classes using it has an enrollment of twenty-two. Such a condition has only one advantage—there isn't room enough for an explosion. The laboratory is located in a basement carpeted with matting to protect the students from the dankness of the stone floors.

We were invited out to attend Assembly, and we went vaguely expecting to see an auditorium with moveable arms on the chairs that banged down with a cheerful clatter exactly three seconds after the speaker finished the last word, and a sizeable platform for the faculty. What we found was two living rooms thrown into one, with four students seated in desks meant for two, and many late comers standing around like fringe on a doily.

After visiting several classrooms intended for boudoirs, we asked to see the gymnasium. We didn't for the same reason that the farmer didn't see the purple-footed tortoise at the aquarium. There wasn't any. When one considers that the school won the Interscholastic Athletic prize last year for the city of Shanghai with such meagre facilities for physical culture, it is interesting to speculate on what they could accomplish with a gymnasium.

FINE FOR TADPOLE RANCH

The campus, we found, consisted of two mud oblongs varied here and there by a little patchwork of puddles. It would make an excellent campus for a seminary of young ducks and might also be serviceable as a tadpole hatchery. Even in fair weather it is about as adequate for the size of the school as Soochow Creek would be for the Empress of Asia.

In the boarding department, which is scattered on three streets, the students average four and five to a room with a bureau drawer space allowance that would almost fit the wardrobe of a kewpie doll. Our guide through the boys' dormitory offered to show us the inside of the bureau-drawers and we looked expecting to see the usual assortment of shoe-blacking, fishing-tackle, soiled collars, and geological specimens that characterise boys' bureau-drawers from Alaska to the Argentine.

WHO DID THIS NEATNESS?

Right here, however, was where we received one of the jolts of our journalistic career. Every article was folded as carefully as the contents of a spinster's hope-chest, this 'feverish fable' condition being achieved through the medium of student government. Besides being demerited for untidy bureau-drawers, a boy is assessed one point for each 'major article' of clothing left on the floor and half a point for each 'minor article.' The same penalties are imposed for a towel on the floor and for a towel left rumpled on the rack.

Perhaps the fact that the inspecting is done by students appointed in the dormitory accounts for the unparalleled condition of the rooms. No human boy would keep things

JAPAN WANTS TO BE CRITIC; URGES CHINA RECONSIDER

Nippon's Cabinet Heads Decide On Attitude As To Shantung

WATCHING CHINA

Will Call Attention To Points In Reply And Ask Revision

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 17.—It is learned from reliable sources that the Cabinet on Saturday decided on its attitude towards China's reply regarding Shantung, according to which Japan will call the attention of China to points in her reply which are considered open to criticism as ignoring the Treaty obligations.

Mr. Obata, the Japanese Minister in Peking, is expected to transmit Japan's ideas to China tomorrow. Should China not reconsider her previous attitude, it is believed that Japan will publish the whole of the correspondence on this matter and appeal to the judgment of the Powers.

China's attitude is now watched with the keenest interest.

NO ANSWER YET

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, October 15.—Official instructions to the Japanese Legation with regard to the Tokio Foreign Office's policy towards the Chinese Shantung memorandum of October 5 were not forthcoming today.

Tokio press reports, however, which apparently emanate from authoritative sources, indicate that Japan is likely to request the Chinese Government to reconsider its reply.

These reports are taken here as meaning that the Tokio Government is likely to support Minister Obata in his refusal to receive the Chinese memorandum officially, but to merely take it and look it over unofficially.

On the other hand Minister Obata communicated the memorandum of October 5 to his Government in full the same day on which he received it. Whether this was done officially or unofficially is not, however, stated.

JAPAN STANDS PAT

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 15.—The Japanese Legation has now determined to regard the Chinese reply of October 7 to the Japanese invitation to negotiate the return of Tsingtao on certain bases, in the light of an unconditional declination to accept. No further Japanese advances are likely to be made, it is stated at the Japanese Legation, and any further discussion of the issue between the two nations will have to be opened by China.

This attitude is taken despite the fact that the Chinese reply contains no phrase categorically repudiating the principle of negotiation, and rather suggests, in the introduction, that China's objection is not to the principle of negotiation but to the principle base upon which Japan wishes to place the negotiation. Here, indeed, comes the rub.

It is stated at the Japanese Legation that as long as China refuses to begin from the point that Japan is, at present, actually legal possessor of the German leasehold and certain economic rights and privileges in Shantung, there can be no compromise between the two nations on the conditions of the return.

CITE VERSAILLES TREATY

This claim to legal possession Japan bases upon the Versailles treaty and not only the Sino-Japanese agreements made in 1915 but the Sino-Japanese negotiation conducted by the "traitor" Minister Chang in Tokio following the signing of the Versailles treaty in 1918.

Although this latter negotiation failed to come to a head owing to the students' uprising and the dramatic downfall of the Anfu regime, the Japanese claim that their present suggestions for the disposition of the railway and economic rights are much more favorable to China than the actual suggestions of China in regard to the same matters made in 1918.

Thus it will be seen that the Japanese are willing to give up no portion of the favorable position gained by them through their strategy before and during the Paris Peace Conference or through the "illegal" (as the Chinese now claim) commitments gained from China by force or purchase of officials. They are willing to appear in a generous light by going further, in the Chiaochow return, than, as they claim, their legal rights compel; but they insist that China recognise in toto their position.

CONTRAVENES TREATY

China's position that the leasehold was cancelled upon her entry into the war and no longer exists, is, according to the Japanese view, directly contraventory of the Versailles Treaty, and any recognition of it or support of it by America or other nations friendly to China at the Washington or any other conference will immediately involve the integrity and continued existence of that treaty.

Upon this ground Japan confidently rests any defense that she may be compelled to make against a possible Chinese endeavor to raise the issue in Washington.

WAR OR PEACE, QUESTION
(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 14.—At today's meeting of the International Economic Conference at Caxton Hall Mr. Pood (China) said that the issue of the Washington Conference meant war or peace. The center of gravity was the Chinese question. The Chinese themselves were doing all they could but the withdrawal of the Japanese troops from Shantung would be appreciated as evidence of sympathy.

SOCIAL WORKER TO SPEAK TODAY TO CLUB WOMEN

Miss Agatha Harrison To Address American Woman's Club This Afternoon

Miss Agatha Harrison, who has been a prominent worker among the factory girls in England and who directed a class for Social Workers in the University of London, will be the speaker at the meeting of the American Woman's Club which will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Carlton Cafe. Miss Harrison is in Shanghai making a special study of social conditions and while her subject will be "Social Conditions in General" she will touch on conditions she has observed here.

The meeting will be under the direction of the Social Service Department of the Club, of which Mrs. John W. Nichols is chairman. Tea will be served at 4 o'clock after which the program will be given.

British Are Facing Most Momentous Task

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 16.—Rarely in modern political history has a Government been faced with such a momentous task as the British Government will face during the forthcoming week.

Parliament will re-assemble on Tuesday, when Mr. Lloyd George will immediately submit plans which the Cabinet has considered for alleviating unemployment and which are understood to be most comprehensive, covering not only relief of distress and provision for employment on works of utility, but also revival of trade.

Coincidently, it is expected that the Irish Conference will enter a very delicate stage in the early part of the week.

Worthington Evans, Secretary of State for War, The Honorable F. E. Guest, Secretary of State for Air, and representatives of the other Ministries and Departments.

A great crowd of British and Americans vigorously cheered him at the station. The Duke of Connaught will give a luncheon in his honor at St. James's Palace tomorrow.

Russ Consulates In Korea To Be Closed

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Seoul, Oct. 7.—According to instructions received from the Russian Embassy in Tokio, the Russian Consulates in Korea will be closed shortly. Consul-General J. Lutschg will leave for Switzerland by the end of this month, while attache L. Begeslevsky will leave for Harbin in January next. M. Heftaler, the Secretary, is expected to remain here in a private capacity. The Russian Consulates in Fusan and Gensan will also be closed.

King Albert Flies Back To Brussels

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 15.—After a successful flight from Capablanca to Toulouse, the King of the Belgians arrived in Paris this morning. His Majesty immediately on his arrival visited the President at the Palace of Versailles and remained for more than an hour in conversation with M. Millerand whom he thanked for all the kind attentions which he had received throughout his tour. His Majesty left by aeroplane from Le Bourget for Brussels.

Rockefeller Founds Center For Students

New York, Oct. 15.—Mr. John D. Rockefeller, has given funds for a residential center to accomodate 500 out of the 1,400 foreign students in New York. The building will be called the International House.

Persia Plans Great Industrial Program

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 15.—The new Persian Premier in his first speech before the Parliament explained his program, which includes the creation of large societies with the object of exploiting the natural resources of the country, particularly petroleum.

The program of the Government also comprises plans for the construction of roads and railways, for which appeal will be made to foreign capital.

Martial Law Is On In Chekiang

(China Press Correspondence)

Hangchow, Oct. 17.—Because of the trouble between military police and soldiers, which began on October 12 while the celebrations were being held, martial law has been declared in the Province of Chekiang.

The Shanghai Military Governor, fearing that the trouble may result in disorders here, has detailed extra soldiers on duty every night from 6 o'clock on.

Red Militia Pat Partisans To Flight

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, Oct. 16.—Partisans attacked Spassk on October 10 but were driven off by the militia after half an hour's fighting. On the same date they attacked and occupied the village of Shiralevka but were driven back to Anutchino the following day by the militia and Japanese troops from Ivanovka.

On October 13 forty partisans attacked the militia at Vonastirishtcha. Japanese troops from Manzovka hurried to the assistance of the latter but on arrival found that the militia had defeated the partisans and were pursuing them.

CHINESE HEROES TOPIC OF PAPER AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Dadisman And Mrs. Dunbar Speak At Asiatic Society Hall

At the meeting of the Literary Department of the American Woman's Club yesterday afternoon in the Royal Asiatic Hall, Mrs. P. H. Dunbar gave a very instructive paper on "The Three Great Legendary Heroes" and showed how these men were responsible for many of the customs of today.

Fu-shi, according to Mrs. Dunbar, was the founder of the Chinese Empire and to him is credited the founding of the Chinese customs of dress, the discovery of the compass after years of study and the establishment of the Chinese characters.

Shen-nung is called the God of Agriculture. The country people worship at his shrine and pay homage to him at certain seasons of the year. Many of his followers refuse to discard the primitive tools used in farming for the more modern equipment for fear of offending him. This very popular hero is declared also to have established the laws regarding marriage and to have developed medical science.

Hwang-ti, the great statesman and warrior, is one of the best known and highly respected of the Chinese gods. He was a great student and rectified the Chinese calendar made by Confucius.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dadisman read a paper on "The When and Where of Early Chinese History" which was of unusual interest for she took her audience back to the earliest days of the Chinese Empire. The paper gave a splendid background for the papers on Chinese history, art and literature which are to follow.

The officers of the Literary Department are Mrs. H. A. Wilbur, chairman; Mrs. G. C. Stockton, vice chairman; Mrs. F. Van Buskirk, secretary; Mrs. C. G. Peelez, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. J. Brenneman, treasurer and Miss G. Oldroyd, librarian.

BIG DRIVE UPON MOPLAH REBELS SOON WILL START

(Reuter's Service)

Bombay, Oct. 16.—It is reported from Malabar that a great offensive against the rebels is expected to begin almost immediately.

FORM MARTIAL COURTS

Simla, Oct. 16.—A martial law ordinance has been promulgated providing for the constitution of military courts to try certain offenses in the martial law area, including the commission of acts calculated to interfere with the success of military or police operations, and communication to the rebels of information with regard to movements of troops and police.

The courts will consist of first class magistrates or sessions judges with powers similar to those of a summary general courtmartial but death sentences must be confirmed by the General commanding the district.

Pardoned Men Now Return To Work

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 15.—The railway authorities announce that labor trouble on the Szechuen-Hankow Railway which grew out of the recent hostilities has now been settled. It appears that during the fighting between Hunan and Hupeh many of the men became frightened and left the service without notice. Fearing on their return that they would be punished, they declared a strike. The railway, however, has agreed to pardon all the delinquents, and they are returning to work.

"Pere Robert" Is Decorated For His Services in China

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Oct. 17.—The French Government has conferred the title of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor on Father Leon Robert, Procurator General of the Missions Etrangeres in Hongkong, and for many years a member of the French Municipal Council in Shanghai, for distinguished services rendered in the course of his more than 30 years' sojourn in the Far East.

WOOD SWORN IN AS GOV. GENL. OF THE PHILIPPINES

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Oct. 15.—Major-General Leonard Wood was inaugurated Governnor-General of the Philippine Islands here today. In the course of his speech, he declared that the policy of the Government would be to quit business and restore the credit of the Islands. English would be made the common tongue. Self-government would not be interfered with.

Justice Johnson administered the oath. It is estimated that 100,000 persons were present at the inauguration ceremony, while 10,000 took part in the parade.

COL. HOUSE DROPS CARD ON WILSON

(U.S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, Oct. 17.—Colonel E. M. House, who, as far as is known, has not seen ex-President Wilson since the differences between them during the Paris Peace Conference, called at Mr. Wilson's home today and left his card.

KOREANS MAKE FORAY
(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Seoul, Oct. 10.—Twenty armed Korean malcontents attacked the village office and police station at Togen in the Sosan district, in Heian Hokudo province. The police and village office staff engaged the attackers, but owing to lack of ammunition a Korean policeman and his wife were killed, and the village chief and his brother were seriously wounded. The assailants escaped.

SCHOOL GROWING FAST

Despite such additional handicaps as a library the size of a Pullman compartment office space that was formerly coolie quarters, the Shanghai American School is doing work that would rate it AI among preparatory institutions at home. Since it was founded in 1912, with a capital of $2,500, the school has grown like a Liberty Bond subscription list and gives every promise of tripling itself within the next few years.

Its students are received into American colleges without preliminary examination, all ten of last year's class being headed toward a university diploma.

One of the school's unusual features is the course in Mandarin Chinese, an elective which begins in the lower grades and which gives the students an invaluable foundation for business or mission work in the Far East.

NONE IS INFIRM

Most important of all, the student body is a happy one, and it also might be mentioned in passing that the two infirmaries are empty. We don't know whether or not they will all be vested with the key of Phi Beta Kappa, but judging from the organised yelling we heard yesterday morning under the direction of Harold Brewster, former students of the Shanghai American School will be heard from in whatever college they enroll.

RAILWAYMEN TO CALL BIG STRIKE AT MONTH'S END

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Five hundred general chairmen of the four trainmen's brotherhoods and the switchmen's union have been instructed to initiate a progressive general strike, commencing on the 30th instant. The railroads have been divided into four groups.

The strike begins on seventeen railways on the 30th, the other groups to follow at twenty-four-hour intervals.

RAIL BOARD SUMMONED
(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Railway Board, representing the public as the ultimate authority on wages, has been summoned to confer with the Inter-State Commerce Commission which is the ultimate authority on rates apart from wages. The joint conference has appointed a subcommittee to continue the discussions next week.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 15.—Mr. Chow Tze-chi, who is going as advisor to the Chinese delegation to Washington, will sail for America on October 25.

Peking, Oct. 15.—Mr. Chuan Shin-en, Chinese Vice-Consul in Saghalien, has been recalled to serve in the Waichiaopu. His successor has not yet been selected.

Stinnes Plans To Take Over Railways

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The extending ramifications of Herr Stinnes's enterprises are evidenced by a statement in the newspapers that that magnate is planning to take over the railways and possibly other State-controlled institutions with the object of running them on a paying basis. The railways at present show a deficit of fifteen milliard marks.

Chicago Tribune Wins $10,000,000 Suit

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, Oct 15.—The Court has sustained the demurer of the Chicago Tribune declaring that there is no cause for action in the $10,000,000 libel suit filed by the Corporation of Chicago on the ground that the newspaper's criticisms of the Mayor's financial policy had gravely impaired the city's credit.

MACAO REFUSES; DECLARES CHINA IS IN THE WRONG

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Oct. 17.—It is unofficially reported that the Macao Government has replied to the Canton Government rejecting the latter's demands and refusing to apologise to the Canton Government with regard to the recent conflict.

The Macao Government declares that the Chinese are in the wrong and upholds the right of Portuguese vessels to proceed to Nganhang and Wantsai as these places are recognised as being Portuguese territory.

Regarding the demand of the Canton Government requiring prohibition of gambling, the Macao Government states that the Canton Government cannot interfere with Macao's internal affairs.

The Cantonese are now urging the Canton Government to take up a strong attitude against the Macao Government, appealing to the people of the whole province to oppose the Portuguese.

URGE REPEAL OF LAW; PIRATES OF BOOZE ARE CAUSE

(U.S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

New York, Oct. 17.—The Grand Jury has returned a presentment recommending immediate repeal of the State prohibition law. They said that, after two months, investigation had convinced them that pirates were robbing each other and breaking into the homes of respectable people and carrying away what liquor they could.

Governors Named For Flood Relief

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 18.—The following resolutions were adopted by the Cabinet at a meeting this morning:

(1) That Mr. Wang Huei-shen be transferred to Anhuei as Chief of the Political Bureau.

(2) That Mr. Yang Chang-yung be transferred to Honan as Chief Procurator and Mr. Hsu Shengchin to Kirin as Chief Justice of the High Court there.

(3) That a mandate be issued to appoint the Civil Governors of the provinces affected by the recent floods as Directors (Tupans) of the flood relief work for their respective provinces.

(4) That those who rendered volunteer service in the Famine Relief work be rewarded in accordance with the regulations governing such matters.

MAY CALL MEETING

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 17.—Premier Chin Yung-peng, it is understood, will lay before the cabinet a proposal to convoke a meeting of representatives of the various provinces to consider the financial and military problems which the government is facing. Pan-fu has been requested to act as minister of finance until a definite appointment is made.

OPPOSE KANSU GOVERNOR

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 17.—The Provincial Assembly of Kansu telegraphed yesterday "in the name of 12,500 men" that Governor-Elect Pan Linkuo was strongly opposed by the people of Kansu and urged that some other more satisfactory man be appointed by the government to take his place.

Mr. T'ang and Mr. Hsu leave tonight for Peking from where they will proceed to the United States.

PLEA FOR KOREA

Sung Kwe-zah, premier of the Korean provisional government in Shanghai, has asked the Chinese government to bring the Korean question up at the Pacific conference in Washington. Mr. Sung is enrolling the aid of local Chinese organisations in backing up his request.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 17.—The Daily Express understands that the British and Dominions Governments agreed during the Imperial Conference that if the Washington Conference failed to result in an understanding regarding the Pacific, it would be necessary to establish a new powerful Far Eastern fleet, the strategic headquarters of which would be at Singapore. The journal adds that the new fleet, if it comes into existence, will be a joint concern of the Dominions and Great Britain.

JAPAN'S DIFFERENT STAND

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 10.—"The proposed armament limitation is certainly desirable, and Japan will not hesitate in the least in employing her best possible efforts for its realisation," remarked Lieut. General Yamanashi, Minister of War, in the course of an interview by the Osaka Shimpo. The Minister continued:

"But the fact should not be lost sight of, that Japan stands on quite a different footing from that of the European Powers. The latter had been obliged to extend their respective scale of armaments during the late Great War, and naturally now require its retrenchment. But the Japanese participation in the hostilities necessitated no expansion of her armament equipments.

"Some of the Japanese advocates of armament limitation hold that because the United States intends to decrease her land troops to 170,000, therefore Japan ought to follow her example. This is quite an absurd theory, utterly ignoring the above special circumstances in which Japan finds herself. Japan should keep the above fundamental difference of standpoint in view when she participates in the discussion of armament limitation."

KIANGSU LEADS ALL

Peking, Oct. 15.—The various provinces have notified the Government recently regarding the contributions they will make toward the expenses of the Washington delegation. Kiangsu is stated to be subscribing $120,000, the largest amount yet promised.

HOW CAN WE DISARM?

London, Oct. 14.—The Navy League has issued a memorandum, dealing with the Washington Conference, which declares that the problem of limitation of naval armaments does not appear capable of satisfactory solution on material lines for the problem is not a material but a moral one.

It points out that the difficulty with regard to limitation of expenditure or of the numbers of ships is that science may so alter the ship as to completely change relative international positions according to the ingenuity of the inventors of the various nations, even though the nations keep strictly to the letter of the agreement.

The memorandum urges that the sea presents to mankind two extreme conceptions, namely the possibilities of exercising the greatest power in the world or a field for almost unlimited service which is essential to the well-being of all nations. If the nations could be persuaded to take the latter view the problem would be solved.

LLOYD GEORGE TO GO?

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 14.—It is understood that, though a definite decision has not been reached, Mr. Lloyd George is likely to leave for Washington about November 5.

HARDING GRATIFIED

Washington, Oct. 14.—President Harding, Secretary of State Hughes and all officials connected with the forthcoming Conference are much gratified at the report that Mr. Lloyd George may come to Washington after all. It is felt that his attendance will materially assist in furthering the success of the deliberations.

BACK HARDING VIEW

New York, Oct. 14.—Commenting on President Harding's letter with regard to disarmament, the New York Times says: "President Harding's reminders of the difficulties in the way of the Conference are timely and sound. Arming is caused by national policies and, until they are modified, or brought under a comprehensive agreement, there can be no general cutting down of the military burdens."

The New York Herald says: "America will do all possible to achieve lessening of armaments but will undoubtedly be entirely governed by what other nations do."

The journal urges all nations to lay their cards on the table because thus only can the Conference arrange practical limitation of armaments.

CHINESE PROCLAMATION

The National Union of Chambers of Commerce and the National Conference of Educational Associations, in joint session, have issued the following proclamation with regard to the Pacific Conference:

As China is one of the large countries along the Pacific, and as the Pacific question has much to do with the Far East, we Chinese are bound to take part in this coming Conference. Although the North and the South have been struggling for so long a time, yet the people themselves are one and not separable. This can be best explained by the United Conference of these two Unions. Through the several sessions that have been held we have found the principal reason of our infernal strife, and that is the Twenty-one Demands, which were not sanctioned by the Congress then. To explain to friendly peoples, and to secure their help, we have herewith set forth the following proclamation:

1.—That the Chinese will not recognise unjust treaties that may interfere with the safety of China or any such made between any two nations that concern China without her approval.

2.—That no country shall take any part of Chinese territory under its influence in the name of certain relations or because of special position.

3.—With these two stipulations, we Chinese citizens declare that,

(a) The Twenty-one Demands and illegal capture of Manchuria and Shantung should be abolished and further there should be a promise of returning Tsingtao without conditions; and

(b) The unconditional customs taxes should be abolished so that customs taxes of China can be levied internationally.

4—That the people of China should ask the government to reduce the army to the least possible number.

5.—That the people of China should ask the government to clear up all financial difficulties and abolish the likin tax.

6.—That the people of China should plan for international safety, but first should ask the correction of treaties.

LABOR WOULD CUT BONDS AND MAKE AUSTRALIA STATE

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 17.—The Times correspondent in Melbourne states that the Inter-State Labor Conference has passed a resolution in favor of making the Commonwealth the supreme governing authority of Australia, with unlimited powers, the States having only such functions as the Commonwealth confers. The resolution provides for the abolition of the Senate, also vesting final jurisdication of all causes in the High Court, and disallowing acceptance of Imperial honors by Australian citizens.

B.W.A. May Form Dramatic Section

A number of members of the British Women's Association have expressed the desire that a Dramatic Section should be formed, to work in conjunction with the Musical Section or, if sufficient applications are forthcoming, to operate independently.

All members of the B. W. A. who are interested in the subject should send in their names, and views as to a separate section or otherwise to Mrs. F. H. Lowe, Honorary Secretary to the Musical Section, 71 Route de Say Zoong, on or before October 25th.

Oil Rush Starts In West Australia

(Reuter's Service)

Melbourne, Oct. 14.—The Melbourne Herald reports that, following on the discovery of distinct traces of mineral oil in the Kimberley District of Western Australia there has been a rush of applicants for oil prospecting licences.

Leases, covering 100,000 square miles in the western portion of the Northern Territory, adjoining Kimberley, have also been applied for.

CONTRAVENES TREATY

China's position that the leasehold was cancelled upon her entry into the war and no longer exists, is, according to the Japanese view, directly contraventory of the Versailles Treaty, and any recognition of it or support of it by America or other nations friendly to China at the Washington or any other conference will immediately involve the integrity and continued existence of that treaty.

Upon this ground Japan confidently rests any defense that she may be compelled to make against a possible Chinese endeavor to raise the issue in Washington.

WAR OR PEACE, QUESTION

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 14.—At today's meeting of the International Economic Conference at Caxton Hall Mr. Pood (China) said that the issue of the Washington Conference meant war or peace. The center of gravity was the Chinese question. The Chinese themselves were doing all they could but the withdrawal of the Japanese troops from Shantung would be appreciated as evidence of sympathy.

SOCIAL WORKER TO SPEAK TODAY TO CLUB WOMEN

Miss Agatha Harrison To Address American Woman's Club This Afternoon

Miss Agatha Harrison, who has been a prominent worker among the factory girls in England and who directed a class for Social Workers in the University of London, will be the speaker at the meeting of the American Woman's Club which will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Carlton Cafe. Miss Harrison is in Shanghai making a special study of social conditions and while her subject will be "Social Conditions in General" she will touch on conditions she has observed here.

The meeting will be under the direction of the Social Service Department of the Club, of which Mrs. John W. Nichols is chairman. Tea will be served at 4 o'clock after which the program will be given.

British Are Facing Most Momentous Task

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 16.—Rarely in modern political history has a Government been faced with such a momentous task as the British Government will face during the forthcoming week.

Parliament will re-assemble on Tuesday, when Mr. Lloyd George will immediately submit plans which the Cabinet has considered for alleviating unemployment and which are understood to be most comprehensive, covering not only relief of distress and provision for employment on works of utility, but also revival of trade.

Coincidently, it is expected that the Irish Conference will enter a very delicate stage in the early part of the week.

Vladivostok, Oct. 16.—Partisans attacked Spassk on October 10 but were driven off by the militia after half an hour's fighting. On the same date they attacked and occupied the village of Shiralevka but were driven back to Anutchino the following day by the militia and Japanese troops from Ivanovka.

On October 13 forty partisans attacked the militia at Vonastirishtcha. Japanese troops from Manzovka hurried to the assistance of the latter but on arrival found that the militia had defeated the partisans and were pursuing them.

WANG TAKES OVER

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 15.—Prof. Wang Wen-hsien, of the Tsinghua College, has been appointed to take over the duties of the President of the College, Mr. Ching Pang-cheng, during the latter's absence with the Pacific Conference Delegation.

CHINESE HEROES TOPIC OF PAPER AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Dadisman And Mrs. Dunbar Speak At Asiatic Society Hall

At the meeting of the Literary Department of the American Woman's Club yesterday afternoon in the Royal Asiatic Hall, Mrs. P. H. Dunbar gave a very instructive paper on "The Three Great Legendary Heroes" and showed how these men were responsible for many of the customs of today.

Fu-shi, according to Mrs. Dunbar, was the founder of the Chinese Empire and to him is credited the founding of the Chinese customs of dress, the discovery of the compass after years of study and the establishment of the Chinese characters.

Shen-nung is called the God of Agriculture. The country people worship at his shrine and pay homage to him at certain seasons of the year. Many of his followers refuse to discard the primitive tools used in farming for the more modern equipment for fear of offending him. This very popular hero is declared also to have established the laws regarding marriage and to have developed medical science.

Hwang-ti, the great statesman and warrior, is one of the best known and highly respected of the Chinese gods. He was a great student and rectified the Chinese calendar made by Confucius.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dadisman read a paper on "The When and Where of Early Chinese History" which was of unusual interest for she took her audience back to the earliest days of the Chinese Empire. The paper gave a splendid background for the papers on Chinese history, art and literature which are to follow.

The officers of the Literary Department are Mrs. H. A. Wilbur, chairman; Mrs. G. C. Stockton, vice chairman; Mrs. F. Van Buskirk, secretary; Mrs. C. G. Peeler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. J. Brenneman, treasurer and Miss G. Oldroyd, librarian.

BIG DRIVE UPON MOPLAH REBELS SOON WILL START

(Reuter's Service)

Bombay, Oct. 16.—It is reported from Malabar that a great offensive against the rebels is expected to begin almost immediately.

FORM MARTIAL COURTS

Simla, Oct. 16.—A martial law ordinance has been promulgated providing for the constitution of military courts to try certain offenses in the martial law area, including the commission of acts calculated to interfere with the success of military or police operations, and communication to the rebels of information with regard to movements of troops and police.

The courts will consist of first class magistrates or sessions judges with powers similar to those of a summary general courtmartial but death sentences must be confirmed by the General commanding the district.

Pardoned Men Now Return To Work

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 15.—The railway authorities announce that labor trouble on the Szechuen-Hankow Railway which grew out of the recent hostilities has now been settled. It appears that during the fighting between Hunan and Hupeh many of the men became frightened and left the service without notice. Fearing on their return that they would be punished, they declared a strike. The railway, however, has agreed to pardon all the delinquents, and they are returning to work.

"Pere Robert" Is Decorated For His Services in China

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Oct. 17.—The French Government has conferred the title of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor on Father Leon Robert, Procurator General of the Missions Etrangeres in Hongkong, and for many years a member of the French Municipal Council in Shanghai, for distinguished services rendered in the course of his more than 30 years' sojourn in the Far East.

WOOD SWORN IN AS GOV. GENL. OF THE PHILIPPINES

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Oct. 15.—Major-General Leonard Wood was inaugurated Governor-General of the Philippine Islands here today. In the course of his speech, he declared that the policy of the Government would be to quit business and restore the credit of the Islands. English would be made the common tongue. Self-government would not be interfered with.

Justice Johnson administered the oath. It is estimated that 100,000 persons were present at the inauguration ceremony, while 10,000 took part in the parade.

COL. HOUSE DROPS CARD ON WILSON

(U.S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, Oct. 17.—Colonel E. M. House, who, as far as is known, has not seen ex-President Wilson since the differences between them during the Paris Peace Conference, called at Mr. Wilson's home today and left his card.

KOREANS MAKE FORAY

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Seoul, Oct. 10.—Twenty armed Korean malcontents attacked the village office and police station at Togen in the Sosan district, in Heian Hokudo province. The police and village office staff engaged the attackers, but owing to lack of ammunition a Korean policeman and his wife were killed, and the village chief and his brother were seriously wounded. The assailants escaped.

SCHOOL GROWING FAST

Despite such additional handicaps as a library the size of a Pullman compartment office space that was formerly coolie quarters, the Shanghai American School is doing work that would rate it Al among preparatory institutions at home. Since it was founded in 1912, with a capital of $2,500, the school has grown like a Liberty Bond subscription list and gives every promise of tripling itself within the next few years.

Its students are received into American colleges without preliminary examination, all ten of last year's class being headed toward a university diploma.

One of the school's unusual features is the course in Mandarin Chinese, an elective which begins in the lower grades and which gives the students an invaluable foundation for business or mission work in the Far East.

NONE IS INFIRM

Most important of all, the student body is a happy one, and it also might be mentioned in passing that the two infirmaries are empty. We don't know whether or not they will all be vested with the key of Phi Beta Kappa, but judging from the organised yelling we heard yesterday morning under the direction of Harold Brewster, former students of the Shanghai American School will be heard from in whatever college they enroll.

RAILWAYMEN TO CALL BIG STRIKE AT MONTH'S END

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Five hundred general chairmen of the four trainmen's brotherhoods and the switchmen's union have been instructed to initiate a progressive general strike, commencing on the 30th instant. The railroads have been divided into four groups.

The strike begins on seventeen railways on the 30th, the other groups to follow at twenty-four-hour intervals.

RAIL BOARD SUMMONED

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Railway Board, representing the public as the ultimate authority on wages, has been summoned to confer with the Inter-State Commerce Commission which is the ultimate authority on rates apart from wages. The joint conference has appointed a subcommittee to continue the discussions next week.

Vladivostok, Oct. 15.—Tseitlin, the Soviet Government representative, was murdered today by unknown assailants whilst hiding in Vladivostok in connection with a projected Communist coup d'etat.

CHOW TO WASHINGTON

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 15.—Mr. Chow Tze-chi, who is going as advisor to the Chinese delegation to Washington, will sail for America on October 25.

Peking, Oct. 15.—Mr. Chuan Shin-en, Chinese Vice-Consul in Saghalien, has been recalled to serve in the Waichiaopu. His successor has not yet been selected.

Stinnes Plans To Take Over Railways

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The extending ramifications of Herr Stinnes's enterprises are evidenced by a statement in the newspapers that that magnate is planning to take over the railways and possibly other State-controlled institutions with the object of running them on a paying basis. The railways at present show a deficit of fifteen milliard marks.

Chicago Tribune Wins $10,000,000 Suit

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, Oct 15.—The Court has sustained the demurer of the Chicago Tribune declaring that there is no cause for action in the $10,000,000 libel suit filed by the Corporation of Chicago on the ground that the newspaper's criticisms of the Mayor's financial policy had gravely impaired the city's credit.

MACAO REFUSES; DECLARES CHINA IS IN THE WRONG

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Oct. 17.—It is unofficially reported that the Macao Government has replied to the Canton Government rejecting the latter's demands and refusing to apologise to the Canton Government with regard to the recent conflict.

The Macao Government declares that the Chinese are in the wrong and upholds the right of Portuguese vessels to proceed to Nganhang and Wantsai as these places are recognised as being Portuguese territory.

Regarding the demand of the Canton Government requiring prohibition of gambling, the Macao Government states that the Canton Government cannot interfere with Macao's internal affairs.

The Cantonese are now urging the Canton Government to take up a strong attitude against the Macao Government, appealing to the people of the whole province to oppose the Portuguese.

URGE REPEAL OF LAW; PIRATES OF BOOZE ARE CAUSE

(U.S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

New York, Oct. 17.—The Grand Jury has returned a presentment recommending immediate repeal of the State prohibition law. They said that, after two months, investigation had convinced them that pirates were robbing each other and breaking into the homes of respectable people and carrying away what liquor they could.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 13.—The following resolutions were adopted by the Cabinet at a meeting this morning:

(1) That Mr. Wang Huei-shen be transferred to Anhuei as Chief of the Political Bureau.

(2) That Mr. Yang Chang-yung be transferred to Honan as Chief Procurator and Mr. Hsu Shengchin to Kirin as Chief Justice of the High Court there.

(3) That a mandate be issued to appoint the Civil Governors of the provinces affected by the recent floods as Directors (Tupans) of the flood relief work for their respective provinces.

(4) That those who rendered volunteer service in the Famine Relief work be rewarded in accordance with the regulations governing such matters.

MAY CALL MEETING

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 17.—Premier Chin Yung-peng, it is understood, will lay before the cabinet a proposal to convoke a meeting of representatives of the various provinces to consider the financial and military problems which the government is facing. Pan-fu has been requested to act as minister of finance until a definite appointment is made.

OPPOSE KANSU GOVERNOR

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 17.—The Provincial Assembly of Kansu telegraphed yesterday "in the name of 12,500 men" that Governor-Elect Pan Linkuo was strongly opposed by the people of Kansu and urged that some other more satisfactory man be appointed by the government to take his place.

PLEA FOR KOREA

Sung Kwe-zah, premier of the Korean provisional government in Shanghai, has asked the Chinese government to bring the Korean question up at the Pacific conference in Washington. Mr. Sung is enrolling the aid of local Chinese organisations in backing up his request.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 17.—The Daily Express understands that the British and Dominions Governments agreed during the Imperial Conference that if the Washington Conference failed to result in an understanding regarding the Pacific, it would be necessary to establish a new powerful Far Eastern fleet, the strategic headquarters of which would be at Singapore. The journal adds that the new fleet, if it comes into existence, will be a joint concern of the Dominions and Great Britain.

JAPAN'S DIFFERENT STAND

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 10.—"The proposed armament limitation is certainly desirable, and Japan will not hesitate in the least in employing her best possible efforts for its realisation," remarked Lieut. General Yamanashi, Minister of War, in the course of an interview by the Osaka Shimpo. The Minister continued:

"But the fact should not be lost sight of, that Japan stands on quite a different footing from that of the European Powers. The latter had been obliged to extend their respective scale of armaments during the late Great War, and naturally now require its retrenchment. But the Japanese participation in the hostilities necessitated no expansion of her armament equipments.

"Some of the Japanese advocates of armament limitation hold that because the United States intends to decrease her land troops to 170,000, therefore Japan ought to follow her example. This is quite an absurd theory, utterly ignoring the above special circumstances in which Japan finds herself. Japan should keep the above fundamental difference of standpoint in view when she participates in the discussion of armament limitation."

KIANGSU LEADS ALL

Peking, Oct. 15.—The various provinces have notified the Government recently regarding the contributions they will make toward the expenses of the Washington delegation. Kiangsu is stated to be subscribing $120,000, the largest amount yet promised.

HOW CAN WE DISARM?

London, Oct. 14.—The Navy League has issued a memorandum, dealing with the Washington Conference, which declares that the problem of limitation of naval armaments does not appear capable of satisfactory solution on material lines for the problem is not a material but a moral one.

It points out that the difficulty with regard to limitation of expenditure or of the numbers of ships is that science may so alter the ship as to completely change relative international positions according to the ingenuity of the inventors of the various nations, even though the nations keep strictly to the letter of the agreement.

The memorandum urges that the sea presents to mankind two extreme conceptions, namely the possibilities of exercising the greatest power in the world or a field for almost unlimited service which is essential to the well-being of all nations. If the nations could be persuaded to take the latter view the problem would be solved.

LLOYD GEORGE TO GO?

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 14.—It is understood that, though a definite decision has not been reached, Mr. Lloyd George is likely to leave for Washington about November 5.

HARDING GRATIFIED

Washington, Oct. 14.—President Harding, Secretary of State Hughes and all officials connected with the forthcoming Conference are much gratified at the report that Mr. Lloyd George may come to Washington after all. It is felt that his attendance will materially assist in furthering the success of the deliberations.

BACK HARDING VIEW

New York, Oct. 14.—Commenting on President Harding's letter with regard to disarmament, the New York Times says: "President Harding's reminders of the difficulties in the way of the Conference are timely and sound. Arming is caused by national policies and, until they are modified, or brought under a comprehensive agreement, there can be no general cutting down of the military burdens."

The New York Herald says: "America will do all possible to achieve lessening of armaments but will undoubtedly be entirely governed by what other nations do."

The journal urges all nations to lay their cards on the table because thus only can the Conference arrange practical limitation of armaments.

CHINESE PROCLAMATION

The National Union of Chambers of Commerce and the National Conference of Educational Associations, in joint session, have issued the following proclamation with regard to the Pacific Conference:

As China is one of the large countries along the Pacific, and as the Pacific question has much to do with the Far East, we Chinese are bound to take part in this coming Conference. Although the North and the South have been struggling for so long a time, yet the people themselves are one and not separable. This can be best explained by the United Conference of these two Unions. Through the several sessions that have been held we have found the principal reason of our infernal strife, and that is the Twenty-one Demands, which were not sanctioned by the Congress then. To explain to friendly peoples, and to secure their help, we have herewith set forth the following proclamation:

1.—That the Chinese will not recognise unjust treaties that may interfere with the safety of China or any such made between any two nations that concern China without her approval.

2.—That no country shall take any part of Chinese territory under its influence in the name of certain relations or because of special position.

3.—With these two stipulations, we Chinese citizens declare that,

(a) The Twenty-one Demands and illegal capture of Manchuria and Shantung should be abolished and further there should be a promise of returning Tsingtao without conditions; and

(b) The unconditional customs taxes should be abolished so that customs taxes of China can be levied internationally.

4.—That the people of China should ask the government to reduce the army to the least possible number.

5.—That the people of China should ask the government to clear up all financial difficulties and abolish the likin tax.

6.—That the people of China should plan for international safety, but first should ask the correction of treaties.

LABOR WOULD CUT BONDS AND MAKE AUSTRALIA STATE

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 17.—The Times correspondent in Melbourne states that the Inter-State Labor Conference has passed a resolution in favor of making the Commonwealth the supreme governing authority of Australia, with unlimited powers, the States having only such functions as the Commonwealth confers. The resolution provides for the abolition of the Senate, also vesting final jurisdication of all causes in the High Court, and disallowing acceptance of Imperial honors by Australian citizens.

B.W.A. May Form Dramatic Section

A number of members of the British Women's Association have expressed the desire that a Dramatic Section should be formed, to work in conjunction with the Musical Section or, if sufficient applications are forthcoming, to operate independently.

All members of the B. W. A. who are interested in the subject should send in their names, and views as to a separate section or otherwise to Mrs. F. H. Lowe, Honorary Secretary to the Musical Section, 71 Route de Say Zoong, on or before October 25th.

Oil Rush Starts In West Australia

(Reuter's Service)

Melbourne, Oct. 14.—The Melbourne Herald reports that, following on the discovery of distinct traces of mineral oil in the Kimberley District of Western Australia there has been a rush of applicants for oil prospecting licences.

Leases, covering 100,000 square miles in the western portion of the Northern Territory, adjoining Kimberley, have also been applied for.

SAWING THROUGH A WOMAN

Harbor Experts Dined By Conservancy Boards

landing and loading means less expense in port, and in particular, less interest on the cargo; all these mean more trade; more trade means more prosperity for China. May we not also hope that such economic improvement will be parallelled by political betterment, so that Shanghai by helping itself may prove an important factor in the salvation of China.

"It is with greatest pleasure that on behalf of the Whangpoo Conservancy Consultative Board and the commercial and shipping interests of Shanghai I now welcome the members of this important committee. Also, it affords me great pleasure to see all the Chinese and foreign officials and distinguished representatives of local Chinese and foreign interests who have honored us by their presence and shown their interest in the vital question before the committee of consulting engineers.

"Improved shipping means less expense," he pointed out, "and less interest on cargo. This means more prosperity for China and political betterment. Thus Shanghai may come to be an important factor in the salvation of the whole country."

Major General Black was the last speaker. He opened his address with several apt and amusing stories and voiced the committee's appreciation of the preparatory work which had been done by the Whangpoo Conservancy.

He then took up the topic of shipping development, pointing to the tendency of ship builders to turn out vessels of greater tonnage and, therefore, greater draft, as an economic measure well recognised by men of the commercial world.

BIGGER SHIPS COMING

The bulk of the world's commerce, he said, is still carried in vessels of 26-foot draft or less, but the tendency is toward larger craft. The vital question here is the proper development of Shanghai's harbor. It may not be in accord with economic policy, he said, to spend today for development to care for ships which are not coming here. But the plan should be such that when these ships do commence calling here they can be provided for.

"Today," General Black declared, "Shanghai must be considered a second rate port, because there are few ships of great tonnage—12,000 tons or more cargo capacity—which can call here and unload a full cargo and ship a full cargo for their return. Until it expands to that extent it cannot be called a first class port.

"But anyone studying the marvellous growth of the city and the marvellous growth of its commerce cannot but realise that it has the possibilities of becoming one of the great ports of the world. It has the possibilities of becoming so great a port that the establishment will be warranted of shipping lines dependent upon a passenger service alone—such as the Cunard and other lines on the Atlantic.

"WORLD NEEDS CHINA"

"In other words it may become a terminus. Hinterland it has in plenty. All this means the development of the port of Shanghai and thus of China.

"China is not yet developed to anything like its capacity. Its possibilities are wonderful. The port of Shanghai, if properly developed, must prove a most important factor in the development of China, and so of the world; for the world needs China as China needs the world."

Following General Black's talk, Mr. Lowder spoke briefly but eloquently of the work of Mr. von Heidenstam, engineer-in-chief of the Conservancy Board and of his staff and Mr. von Heidenstam replied.

WELCOMES COMMITTEE

"In rising, on behalf of the other Directors, to support our Chinese colleague on the Whangpoo Conservancy Board, in the welcome which he has offered to our distinguished visitors tonight," Mr. Lowder said, "I wish to call attention to the fact that it is, today, exactly one month short of 78 years since the port of Shanghai was opened to foreign trade under the Treaty of Nanking.

"During these three-quarters of a century China has undergone many vicissitudes and has been, alternately, the hope and the despair of her friends and well-wishers. But if we look back at the history of Shanghai, I think that we may fairly say that progress has been the keynote of her development, until today she stands as a monument to the foresight of the pioneers of early days and to the enterprise of their successors, as well as an example of what can be accomplished by commercial energy and integrity in this country of illimitable possibilities.

TRADE 841 MILLIONS

"During the year 1920 the total value of the trade of the port, under the cognisance of the Maritime Customs, amounted to 841 million Hk. Tls. or nearly half that of the whole trade of the Treaty Ports, and the revenue collected amounted to 18,833,000 taels, or about 2-5ths of the total Maritime Customs collection. I may mention that the revenue for the first three-quarters of this year is already 1½ million taels in excess of that of the corresponding period of last year.

"The total tonnage entered and cleared at Shanghai last year was 22,500,000 tons, of which 37 percent was British, 27½ percent was Japanese, 18½ percent was Chinese, 11½ percent was American, 2½ percent was French and the remainder 3 percent.

"The total tonnage of steamers under the control of the Native Customs—principally trading under Inland Waters Regulations—was 1,096,000 tons; the number of junks entered and cleared was 58,000; the value of the cargoes this shipping carried was 72 million taels, and the total revenue collected was 292,000 taels.

PROSPECTS UNLIMITED

"If, then, the trade of Shanghai has in the past 78 years grown to the dimensions indicated by the figures I have just given you, in spite of the disabilities under which the shipping of the port has labored, who is to say what limit is to be put to the possibilities of its future expansion as the ultimate outcome of the investigations now about to be undertaken by the Committee of eminent experts whom we are welcoming this evening

"The immediate object of these investigations, as you know, is to formulate, on the basis of the researches which have been carried out by the technical members of the Whangpoo Conservancy Board, the best general scheme for the development of the port of Shanghai and its approaches, with a view to the requirements of the shipping of the future; and it is also hoped that the feasibility of establishing a Free Area in a suitable locality in the neighborhood of Shanghai will be included in the scope of their recommendations, as it is believed that the solution of many of the problems involved in the expansion of the trade of Shanghai will be found in the creation of such an area.

TASK IN ABLE HANDS

"The task before the Consulting Committee is one which calls for technical knowledge and experience of the highest order, and we may therefore congratulate ourselves upon having secured the services of such eminent representatives of the Engineering profession from so many parts of the world.

"Speaking, a few days ago, to a prominent member of the Chinese Government, I remarked that China might very likely be asked to find a large sum of money with which to carry out the recommendations of this Committee, to which he replied that if their proposals were found acceptable the money would no doubt be forthcoming. Let us hope that, in this instance, he was speaking with authority! for I am sure that the commercial community of Shanghai will be found willing to contribute whatever share they may be called upon to make towards the attainment of an object so intimately connected with their own interests.

VISIT IS HISTORIC

"But, gentlemen, whether the labors of the Consulting Committee are destined to bear immediate fruit or not, I venture to express the opinion that this visit of theirs will mark an epoch the future importance of which will bear comparison with that of any event in the past history of Shanghai and will ultimately prove to have as close a bearing upon the welfare of this country as the hoped-for outcome of the Conference on the other side of the Pacific to which she has just sent her delegates.

"It is for this reason, therefore, that we desire to extend to our visitors a more hearty welcome—if possible—even than the traditional hospitality of the East may have led them to count upon, and to express the hope that when their labors are ended they will take away not only the most pleasant recollections of their stay in China, but feelings of real sympathy towards her aspirations along the peaceful path of progress and commercial development."

Cathedral Service To Mark Observance Of Trafalgar Day Here

A full naval service at Holy Trinity Cathedral will mark the observance here of Trafalgar Day next Sunday.

The battle of Trafalgar was fought on October 21, 1805, but it has been arranged to have the service—the first of its kind held here in years—on Sunday.

There will be a full choral service, with hymns in which all may join and the Rev. Statt, chaplain of H. M. S. Titania, which is now in port, will preach.

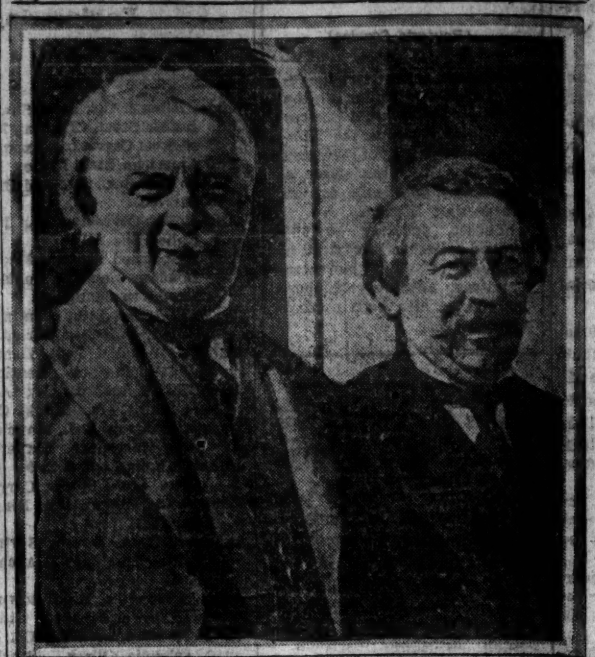
Discovers Remarkable Resemblance Between Premiers



Premiers Lloyd George & M Briand

THESE two heads, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand, were examined by an expert phrenologist who declared there to be a striking resemblance between them. Their hair, head, eyes, mouth, chin and forehead are almost exactly similar. In fact, the expert said, one might take them for twin brothers. Strangely enough, they are wearing the same style ties.

HOYT WAS HEART BROKEN AT LOSING FINAL GAME; PECK'S ERROR GAVE TITLE TO GIANTS

Artie Nehf's Great Pitching Was A Deciding Factor; He Was Steady Throughout, While The Yanks Twirler Got Off To A Bad Start

New York, Oct. 17.—New York fandom today is still excitedly discussing the sensational wind-up of the world's series here when the Giants in the eighth game annexed the title by the narrow margin of 1-0 in a game filled with tense interest from start to finish.

The deciding turn came in the opening frame of the battle. Waite Hoyt, who had already stopped the Giants twice in the series, was on the mound. On him the junior leaguers pinned their hopes of victory. He seemed in great form. But an error by Peckinpaugh gave the Giants their only run and cinched the battle from the outset. Peck let a grounder which Kelly knocked to him pass to Bancroft, and before the ball could be retrieved from the outfield, the damage had been done.

Great pitching by Artie Nehf for the Giants was, however, the real deciding factor. Hoyt's performance was hardly less creditable. He was in trouble in several innings, but worked brilliantly, getting stronger towards the close of the game when he retired the Giants one-two-three.

Followers of the Yanks were hopeful right up to the finish. In the ninth, Ward walked, and Baker lammed the ball to right field. Rawlings, second baseman for the Giants, saw the high fly coming and ran into right field just in time to dive for the ball. However, it had just touched the ground before he could reach it. While still sprawled upon the ground, he threw the ball to Kelly at first, catching Baker. Kelly, with a lightning throw, picked off Ward at third, and the game was over.

"I have the greatest team in the world and undoubtedly the gamest," said John McGraw, Giant leader, in commenting on the series.

Miller Huggins, leader of the Yanks, had no alibi to offer.

"It was a great series," he said, but the Yankees simply couldn't hit consecutively."

Hoyt was heart-broken by his defeat in the final game. Tears streamed down his boyish face as the realisation came to him that he had failed in his third and deciding attempt to lead his team-mates to victory.

HEXAMER WINS H. H. TROPHY OF CLAY BIRD CLUB

The "H. H." Cup of the Shanghai Clay Pigeon Club was competed for on Sunday afternoon. There was a good attendance, both of competitors and spectators.

The ordinary conditions were varied and the 40 birds were divided up into 10 single barrel, 20 double barrel and 10 birds sprung while walking towards the trap. The last mentioned was difficult shooting for those who were unfortunate enough to have birds released at a distance of 35 yards, as the usual distance is 16 yards.

Mr. A. W. Hexamer, shooting from scratch, broke 35 birds out of the 40 and won this event.

The next competition was for a cup put up by the spectators, and as a change from the ordinary the event consisted of 30 double rises, and 10 Leggett. Mr. H. H. Read, shooting from scratch won with a score of 30.

The following scores were made:

LAWN BOWLING SEASON CLOSES AT YANGTSZEPOO

Last Games And Presentation Of Prizes Held On Sunday

BY "THE SHOT"

Despite the threatening weather the Yangtszepoo Lawn Bowls Club carried out their closing program and presentation of prize Sunday. After a progressive pairs game in the morning the members entertained a number of guests to tiffin.

The afternoon was taken up with rink games, drawing, striking and trailing competitions for visitors and members. An event of the latter kind was organised for the ladies and a record entry from the fair sex was the result. This competition proved of great interest and a healthy rivalry was displayed by the ladies from the various clubs. The Yangtszepooites proved themselves quite as well able to hold their rivals in check as the men folk. The Parks committee would have felt quite pleased had they been present as all the rinks were crowded, while a host of spectators watched the sport from the banks.

I was favorably impressed by the conditions of the greens for despite the weather conditions, the turf was quite firm and the woods were running fairly true as far as I could see.

A BRASS BAND PLAYED

A feature of the event was the presence of a brass band from the H.M.S. Titania. Though there were not many instrumentalists their playing was quite good and enlivened the proceedings considerably from tiffin time to dusk.

The prize list absolutely demolished the idea that skill was a minor factor in this popular sport for the Yangtszepoo war horse R. C. Aitkenhead was first in the club's four main events. This on top of Geordie Dunlop's performances stamp our lawn bowls game as one of skill and judgment.

Despite a number of their crack players being absent throughout the season the Waysiders have done remarkably well. In the club games they were the only ones to lower the Recs colors and although only by one point, it was a remarkably good performance.

WAYSIDE WIN RINKS

The Rinks championship travelled Wayside way due to the efforts of Aitkenhead, Malcolm and Company while the skip had extremely hard lines when defeated in the singles by G. Dunlop.

It is a strange thing that Geordie McMurdo has not sent any news regarding his bowling exploits wnile "awa hame" and I'm thinking he'll have a lot to tell us when he gets back. One missed his genial personality at Sunday's function very much.

Mr. J. R. Tweedie thanked the visitors for their attendance and remarked that the past season was marked by a distinct improvement in their younger woodsmen, so much so, that it would behove other clubs to look after their laurels next season as the Waysiders would be scalp hunting in earnest.

JOLLY GOOD COMMITTEE

The credit for having such a successful season was due to a jolly good committee and more especially to the hard work put in by an energetic secretary in the person of Mr. J. M. Smith. Sandy Malcolm can look back on his year of captaincy with a certain degree of pleasure and I know he is pleased at the efforts of Mr. Etterly who has done a lot to get the greens as fit as they are.

Mrs. A. W. Brankston gracefully presented the club prizes and also chose won in the open championships and was the recipient of a souvenir from the club and a pretty basket of flowers from the association.

THE PRIZE WINNERS

The following is the prize list:

Club Singles Championship—1st, R. C. Aitkenhead; 2nd, G. A. Miller.

Police And Navy Draw At Football

A well contested football match was played at the Police recreation ground Sunday when a team representing the force and one from H.M.S. Bee drew at 2 goals each.

Ling, J. Knight, G. E. Knight, Eva and Watson starred for the Police, Watson and G. E. Knight scoring the goals. The navy men had a strong crowd of supporters out.

RANGERS' MEETING

The Rangers held their fourth annual general meeting Friday. Officers and committee were elected as follows:

President, C. R. S. Cooper; Captain J. B. Brown; vice Captain G. J. Day; Secretary and Treasurer A. E. Johnson, and Messrs. N. S. Jacobs, K. C. Evans and J. E. Henry.

The Rangers have entered an eleven in the second league but hope later to get a second eleven out.

Shanghai Beats Yokohama Cricketers By 9 Wickets

Captain Barrett's eleven now touring Japan under the Shanghai Cricket Club flag won their match against Yokohama by nine wickets. The final score was:

First Innings—Shanghai, 180 runs: Yokohama, 127.

Second innings—Shanghai, 121 for 1 wicket; Yokohama 172.

The outstanding features of the second day's play was Allison's bowing. He took five Yokohama wickets for 26 runs, and Mr. A. L. Piper's batting for Yokohama. He scored 91, the highest total of the match.

Capt. E. I. M. Barrett took second high score with 82 in his first innings, and 57 not out in the second. Deeks counted 48 not out in the second.

While the Shanghai batsmen were in good form at run getting, and piled up a total of 301 runs for an innings and one wicket, the strength of the local eleven was also felt in the trundling of Wainwright and Allison. With Wainwright taking six wickets for 35 in the first innings, and Allison getting five in the second for only 28, it may be assumed that Yokohama had no easy time in getting their score.

The only two figure scores mentioned for the Yokohama players were Piper, 91; Scott, 56; and Gowland 23.

JARDINE'S WIN OVER H. & S. BANK BY SCORE 77-72

Bowlers featured a remarkably close cricket match Sunday afternoon between teams from Jardine, Matheson and Company and the Hongkong-Shanghai Bank which resulted in a five-run victory for Ewo. The score was 77-72.

Wilson for Jardine's got six wickets for 23 runs in 15 overs while Lanning had three for seven runs. Muriel and Leslie, with 25 and 28 respectively, were the high scorers.

YOKOHAMA WILL HAVE A PRIVATE BASEBALL PARK

Yokohama, Oct. 11.—With the coming of many foreign baseball teams to Japan, promoters and baseball fans in Yokohama have leased ground near the extremity of the city where games may be played and admission charged. A good baseball diamond is available in Yokohama Park, but the city regulations are that no admission can be charged for games there; so in order to finance the bringing of foreign teams into the country a new diamond had to be provided.

The extent of the growing interest in the great American game in Japan may be judged by the fact that there are now six foreign teams playing in the country and two more are to arrive soon. The six teams in Japan now are the University of Washington nine, which came at the invitation of Waseda University, and the following named five teams under contracts: Canadian Stars, Canadian Indians, Seattle Asahis (Japanese) and Hawaii Asahis (Japanese). The "All Hawaiians" are expected to arrive on the steamer Siberia Maru October 23 and the Vancouver Asahi team (Japanese) are to arrive soon.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL MEN START PRACTICE SATURDAY 3 P.M. ON BASEBALL FIELD

Preliminary Meeting Of Players Decide To Get Right Down To Work; Expect Two Elevens; Holding Formal Meeting Monday At Navy Y.M.C.A.

Candidates for the American football elevens for this fall will get out in football togs Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and again on Sunday morning at 10 for the first practice of the 1921 season. The practice will be had on the Baseball Field at the City Race Course. All players of the American game are invited to come out ready for a little workout. There will be room for everyone for the Football Club this year expects to put two elevens of equal strength in the field.

At a preliminary meeting of the players at the Navy Y.M.C.A. last evening it was decided to get an early start at practice work, to get formally organised for the season within the week, and to get into a match within a fortnight. The feeling was unanimous that action on the field was required at once to make the football season successful.

Cy Wilhoit, captain of last season's eleven presided at yesterday's meeting. He voiced the opinion that all of last year's players and officials, excepting of course Charley Glaugue who has moved to Tientsin, will be out for the games. And, he added, there will be enough other men, newcomers, and men who were home last year, to fill out a second eleven, so as to provide games weekly, or every two weeks at most. These, he said, with the Navy matches, will give Shanghai the best season of football it has ever had.

WANTS ALL PLAYERS

Cy said in urging football men to come out for practice, that men of only casual or small school experience at the game are just as welcome as the best of Shanghai's old-time players. These casual players are expected to fill out the teams. If they know any football, or are willing to learn by coaching instruction, they will be placed, and he guaranteed that the better experienced men would be divided off equally to make the games worth watching. The first string men however will of course be worked in one eleven for the big Navy Matches.

After the preliminary practices Saturday and Sunday it is planned to continue the workouts regularly, in the open and at the armory in the evenings when adviseable. The candidates, at times, will be worked out with the American School squads now practising daily at Hongkew Park under the direction of Coach J. O. Van Hook, the new physical director of the school, a good football man who, by the way is willing to step in and play for Shanghai when needed.

The men known to be available for practice to date are Wilhoit, Maloney, Rodger, Irle, Neprude, Merrill, Tinkham, Dorrance, Anderson, Marden, C. J. Smith, F. S. Smith, Wilhelmni, Van Hook, Stovall, Klein, Neale, H. F. and C. B. Hewitt. Several others will report for practice.

Yesterday it was decided to get active immediately getting the football costumes and other equipment in shape for the season, to purchase new balls and whatever else is needed and getting set for Saturday at 3 p.m., and the first big practice.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better."
JOHN J. LEPPA, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."
A. F. FEHLER M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"For several years I recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
EDWIN F. PARDEE M. D., New York City.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm."
EDWARD PARDEE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a safe and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."
J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

BOLSHEVIKS ARE THORN IN SIDE OF JAPANESE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, October 10.—Speaking to the Seiyukai members assembled at the general meeting in Kofu last night, Mr. Hara said that Japan's Siberian problem was due entirely to the activities of the Bolsheviks.

"The Imperial Government," he continued, "has been obliged to retain troops in Vladivostok and some other quarters in Siberia because the lives and property of Japanese residents are not as yet completely guaranteed and there is danger of Bolshevism invading Japanese territory.

"The situation gradually improved until the Chita Government was established. The Japanese authorities, in the hope of effecting military evacuation after entering into an understanding with the Chita authorities, acceded to the request of the Chita Government for a conference at Dairen.

"It is quite regrettable, however, that before the negotiations were brought to a successful conclusion, the Chita delegates were obliged to withdraw on account of internal political circumstances. The Japanese Government has no ulterior motive in dealing with the Chita Government and can only wait for a better opportunity for the resumption of negotiations."

The Premier then passed on to domestic questions and called attention to the marked increase of the national economic power as compared with some twenty years ago.

"The financial capacity of the Empire has been more than doubled in the past twenty years," he said, "and the people may rest assured that the present economic difficulty can be overcome if the people determine to rise to the aid of the Government policies."

The Minister of Education also spoke regarding educational affairs.

MOSCOW AT BOTTOM

Peking, Oct. 12.—The negotiations at Dairen have created the conviction in Japanese circles that the Russian stipulation for the withdrawal of the Japanese troops from Siberia to be accepted in principle, as a preliminary to further negotiations, really emanated from Moscow.

The Chita Delegates themselves have shown eagerness to reach an agreement with Japan, but this stipulation is still creating a deadlock.

MANY ARE ARRESTED

Vladivostok, Oct. 14.—Owing to the increased activities of the Communists and the influx of their agents from Harbin, the question has been raised in Government circles of declaring Vladivostok in a state of siege. There continue to be large numbers of arrests

The Government yesterday vested the Minister of War, General Verjbitzky, with the full powers and duties of Governor-General.

Senator Cleared Of Corruption Charge

Washington, Sept. 29.—The majority report of the senate committee on privileges and elections today presented its report, clearing Truman H. Newberry of Michigan of all charges of corrupt practice in his election as United States senator. A minority report signed by the Democrats of the committee said Newberry was elected senator by corrupt and illegal methods, and recommended that his seat in the senate be vacated.

Eighty-five defendants were found guilty with Truman H. Newberry in the federal district court at Grand Rapids, Michigan, on March 21, 1920, on a charge of criminal conspiracy in the election of United States senator in Michigan in 1918. Newberry was the candidate on the Republican ticket and Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, was the opposing candidate. It was alleged that Mr. Newberry and his friends conspired by the use of large sums of money to bring about his election.

Mr. Newberry appealed to the United States supreme court which held the Michigan statute, under which Newberry was prosecuted, unconstitutional.

The federal district court at Grand Rapids sentenced Senator Newberry to serve two years in the Fort Leavenworth Penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000.

20,000 Cuban Cigars Made For London Women Smokers

London, Sept. 3.—Twenty thousand cigars made specially for London's fashionable women smokers are on the way from Cuba to meet the demand of those who require something stronger than cigarettes, according to prominent tobacconists here.

Smoking among women, they say, is greatly increasing, and many of them are now using pipes.

See Smuggling Plot In Motor Car Episode

Another instance of the unwarranted use of a motor car and of the transportation of a number of mysterious boxes has given the authorities visions of another big opium smuggling transaction similar to the one resulting in the seizure of over $300,000 worth of the drug recently.

On Saturday morning, according to a report made to the police, a chauffeur formerly employed at a Chinese garage at 975 Woochang Road, came to the garage and drove off in a car. A boy employe of the garage jumped on the back of the car, which was driven to a house on North Szechuen Road. The boy reported that here some foreigners were met and boxes were loaded into the car and that they drove them to a house on North Shansi Road.

The chauffeur then drove back toward the garage and before reaching it and without shutting off the power leaped out, the machine crashing into a house front.

Striking Of Painters Hits Building Trade

5,000 Men Walk Out When Wage Increase Is Refused

Five thousand painters walked out on strike yesterday creating a serious situation for the building trades. The men out include both house painters and interior decorators. The men had asked a rise of 25 percent in wages, which the employers have not granted.

There was a meeting of the employers yesterday morning at a Foochow Road teashop and efforts were made to get the strikers to arbitrate but the latter are standing firm in their demands.

Pohlman Case Echo Heard In Mixed Court

Greek Is Charged With Receiving Stolen Property

Another echo to the series of cases involving Vera Pohlman, heroine of the Norman-Muncie jail-breaking episode, was heard in the Mixed Court yesterday when A. Formaninto, a Greek described as a hotel proprietor, was charged with receiving stolen property and with profiting to the extent of $20 thereby.

It is alleged that Formaminto received a wallet which was stolen from one J. Yesevitch at the South Manchurian wharf recently and which contained the £93 draft which Vera Pohlman was arrested for trying to cash at the Lloyd Triestino offices.

Dr. E. O. Fischer appeared for the defendant and asked for a remand. His client, he said, has been a resident of Shanghai for 18 years and has never been in trouble. The case was remanded until tomorrow, bail of $50 being set.

Police Discover Real Opium Den In Prison Cell

A man can get into trouble with the law even while he's in jail. On Sunday Sub Inspector McKenna of the Mixed Court was making a tour of the cells in the House of Detention when he encountered a pungent smell of opium. He traced it to the cell of a prisoner in a civil case and searched the place thoroughly but found nothing damning. Then he sounded the floor, discovered a loose board and abstracted therefromunder two pipes—one of which had been in recent use—a considerable quantity of prepared drug and all the other paraphernalia necessary. Brought before the Court yesterday the prisoner laid the blame on previous tenants of the cell but the Court was not convinced and regardless of the outcome of the civil action he spends a month longer in jail.

Represented In Review As Selling 8-Cent Bibles For $8 To Negroes

APPEALS FOR FAIRNESS

Story Of Man Attached To Publishing House Falsely Attributed To Him

New York, Sept. 12.—Edward W. Bok is deeply resentful of the charge printed in The Saturday Review of London that he admitted in his recently published autobiography that he sold 8-cent Bibles to the negroes of the South for $8 after coloring the white faces of the angels to chocolate. In a three-column advertisement in the London times of August 26, Mr. Bok says:

"To my readers in England:

"I crave the privilege of asking the English public that it accord me its sense of fair play in the following unfortunate incident:

"WHAT I WROTE"

"In my book 'Edward Bok: An Autobiography" recently published in London by Thornton Butterworth, Ltd., I tell the following story:

"Speaking of Mrs. Stowe brings to mind an unscrupulous and yet ingenious trick played just about this time by a young man attached to one of the New York publishing houses. One evening at dinner this man happened to be in a bookish company when the talk turned on the enthusiasm of the Southern negro for an illustrated Bible. The young publishing clerk listened intently and next day he went to a Bible publishing house in New York, which issued a Bible gorgeous with pictures, and entered into an arrangement with the proprietors whereby he should have the Southern territory. He resigned his position and within a week he was in the South. He made an arrangement with an artist friend to make a change in each copy of the Bible which he contracted for. The angels pictured therein were white in colour. He had these made black, so he could show that there were black angels as well as white ones. The Bibles cost him just eight cents apiece. He went about the South and offered the Bible to the astonished and open-mouthed negroes for $8 each, $2.50 down and the rest in monthly payments. His sales were enormous."

"HOW I AM REPRESENTED"

"In a review of my book, the Saturday Review of London prints the following (the underscoring is mine).

Things certainly came fast. On one page we find the enterprising Mr. Bok selling illustrated Bibles purchased at 8 cents apiece for 8 dollars to the negroes in the Southern States through the device of having the white faces of the angels in the pictures painted chocolate.

"What I told as an unscrupulous trick played upon another is thus fastened upon me personally by the review in the Saturday Review. Unfortunately, my engagements in the United States, make it impossible for me to come to London, otherwise I should have instituted proceedings for libel.

"There is no other course left for me, therefore, than to appeal to the fair play of the English public in this attempt to hold me up to public ridicule and fasten upon me an instance of trickery and dishonesty which I denounced in my book.

"I deeply regret that this should have happened at a time when every effort is being made to create friendly feelings between the people of the United States and Great Britain.

"EDWARD W. BOK."

GERMANS STRIKE SOUTHERN SNAG ON CONSULATES

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, October 14.—No confirmation has been received at the German Legation of the reports that the Sun Yat-sen administration in Canton has notified the new German consul not to re-open the consulate. It has been said that the Foreigner Commissioner to Canton had refused the Germans permission to resume their consular functions and to re-open their business operations because of the fact that the new Sino-German Commercial Treaty had been signed in Peking without the concurrence of the Southern Government. Nothing to this effect has come to the official notice of the legation in Peking.

German consuls have been re-established at Shanghai, Tientsin, and Hankow while a vice-consul has been sent to Canton. As soon as the men arrive in Peking additional consulates will be opened up and German commercial activities in China resumed. The most important firm to renew its business associations in the south is Carlowitz and Company of Canton, and it is expected that its offices in Tientsin and Shanghai will be opened in the near future.

The German Legation in Peking has also failed to receive any news of the reported opposition to the renewal of business relations by the authorities of Kwangtung. No difficulty is expected in this matter and the Germans hope to regain some measure of their former commercial prosperity in China within the course of the next few days.

ADDS FUEL TO FLAME

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Oct. 16.—It is anticipated that, if the threatened railway strike comes about over 500,000 men will cease work on October 30 and 2,000,000 will be out on November 2. The men were already opposed to the 12 percent reduction in wages ordered by the Labor Board and the subsequent notice of further cuts added fuel to the flame.

The President of the Chicago Great Western Railway predicts that the railways will be able to carry on owing to the absence of public sympathy with the railwaymen.

The Chicago Tribune explaining that the public have had to submit to a reduction of their incomes, does not see why the railwaymen's wages should be maintained at the war level.

Motion Pictures Will Teach Correct Etiquette On Trains

Kobe Railway Administration Plans To Show Films Showing How Passengers Should Conduct Themselves While Traveling

Tokio, Oct. 2.—Travelers on the Imperial Government Railways may expect to see better manners among their fellow passengers and more consideration for the feelings of others, if the plan of Kobe be used to point out how one should conduct himself on a railway train. The following report of the proposed lessons in railway ethics is from the Osaka Mainichi:

"Posters have been tried in an effort to amend the disorderly behavior of passengers, but without avail, so it has been decided to make use of motion pictures for propaganda purposes and with this object in view, the Kobe Railway Administration Office has procured films on the subject.

"Among the subjects to be depicted are the scrambling and pushing at the ticket office, the wild jostling at the entrance wicket, a woman stripped to the waist in a train lavatory, allowing the water to be wasted while she applies powder to her face and leisurely does up her hair, while a line of passengers with towels on their arms are kept waiting.

"Again there is the stylishly coiffured lady undressing in the coach, a gentleman who fills up the seat with his grips and bags and spreads out his rug to the utmost limit of space while old men and children gaze with longing eyes at the space he takes up; the man who smoke and puffs out the smoke in the faces of fellow-passengers; the culprits who eat oranges and spit out the chewed remains and throw banana skins on the floor to trip up unwary obasans; the man who drinks from his bottle and throws back his kimono exposing his legs, and other disgusting sights.

"It is intended to show the films to school children and members of public bodies in waiting rooms and other suitable places from the middle of next month, and to try to arouse shame in the traveling public."

MOTHERS REST EASY AT NIGHT

Who Keep Baby's Own Tablets In The House.

Every mother knows those nights of alarm and unrest when the baby, or one or other of the older children, wakes up feverish and unwell. The problem then is what can best be done until the doctor comes in the morning.

The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, in the house feels safe, for the occasional use of these Tablets prevents stomach and bowel troubles, and if sickness comes suddenly they help bring the little one through.

Baby's Own Tablets are an absolutely harmless remedy for simple fever, indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, croup and colds. They quickly allay the pains of teething, and bring natural soothing sleep from which the little one awakes rested and refreshed. They destroy worms. Guaranteed free from opiates and narcotics and to be positively harmless even to the youngest infant. Chemists sell Baby's Own Tablets, or post free, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai, at 60 cents the vial.

Shanghai Mutual Tel. Co. Votes To Double Capital

Declaring that the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company, Ltd., had reached the end of its tether as regards what might be done in managing the business with available capital, Mr. Cecil Holliday, acting as chairman of the board of the directors yesterday urged the shareholders at an extraodinary general meeting to adopt resolutions providing for an increase in the company's capitalisation from Taels 1,000,000 to Taels 2,000,000. The necessity for the increase, the speaker declared had finally become imperative, due to the growth of the business; it was bound to come sooner or later.

The chairman in his speech outlined the growth of the telephone company, from its beginning in 1900 with 120 telephones to the present time and a capitalisation of Taels 100,000 to the present time when almost 13,000 telephones are operated with a capitalisation of Taels 1,000,000.

The resolutions were offered by Mr. Holliday, and seconded by Director E. C. Pearce. The Directorate and shareholders representing 3,026 shares voted unanimously for their adoption. The three resolutions follow:

RESOLUTIONS

1.—That under the powers conferred by the Memorandum and Articles of Association the Capital of the Company be increased to Tls. 2,000,000 by the creation of twenty thousand new shares of fifty taels each in addition to the twenty thousand like shares already existing.

2.—That five thousand of such shares (to rank dividend as and from March 31, 1921) shall be forthwith offered at taels seventy per share to the shareholders on the register on October 17, 1921, in the proportion of one new share to every four existing shares held by them and that such offer shall be made by notice specifying the number of the shares to which the shareholders is entitled and stating that the offer will be deemed to be declined unless an acceptance of such offer in writing is delivered to the Secretary of the Company or to the Company's Bankers, the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, at Shanghai on or before December 31, 1921, together with the sum of taels seventy per share for each new share so accepted and that upon acceptance and payment within the time above mentioned the shares so accepted and paid for shall be allotted accordingly and that after December 31, 1921, any such five thousand new shares not then accepted and paid for shall be disposed of by the Directors editor to shareholders or to others upon such terms and conditions as the Directors may think most beneficial to the company.

3.—That the remaining fifteen thousand of such new shares shall be issued at such future time or times and upon such terms and conditions as the Directors may think most beneficial to the company.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

"Gentlemen: The necessity for an increase of the capital has become imperative with the continually growing of business. It was bound to come sooner or later.

"This company was formed in August 1900 with a capital of Tls. 100,000: The number of telephones then operating totaled 120. In little less than 2 years actually on May 2, 1902, the capital of the company was increased to Tls. 350,000 by the creation of 5,000 additional shares, 2,000 of which were issued to existing shareholders in proportion of one new share to every old one and 3,000 shares were retained for the directors to be disposed of as, and when it might be, in their opinion, beneficial to the company. The number of telephones had then risen to 600.

"About three years later viz: on April 26, 1905, there was another increase of capital, bringing it up to Tls. 1,000,000: by the creation of 13,000 new shares, 7,000 of which were issued to shareholders in proportion of one new share to every old one, and the remaining 6,000 shares held over, as in the former case to be dealt with by the directors at their discretion. The number of telephones then was 1,750.

PRESENT CONDITIONS

"Now, 16 years later we come to you with a recommendation to bring the capital up to Tls. 2,000,000 by authorising the creation of another 20,000 shares of Tls. 50.00 each, and the number of telephones is now 12,922. Probably you wonder how it is we have already managed to get on for so long without any further increase of capital, and I think you may wonder more when I tell you the actual gross capital expenditure of the company from its inception up to now has been over Tls. 2,700,000. It has been done, partly by an issue of debentures, repayment of which is now approaching, and still more by applying to the payments for new plant, etc., all the profits which this company, in common with other well and prudently conducted companies, has from time to time reserved.

"In this respect I must take the opportunity of observing we have been to a certain extent handicapped by the fact that we alone amongst the public utilities of Shanghai have never raised our charges although under our agreement with the Council we should have been fully justified in doing so in view of the enormous advance in cost of labor and material which has taken place during the last seven years. However we have held true to the ideal enunciated from the first that after a reasonable and proper return on the shareholders' capital had been made to them and possible contingencies duly provided for, the general public should have the benefit of the rest.

AT END OF TETHER

"But we have now come to an end of our tether as regards what can be done on the money we have, and if we are to keep up the service efficiently and provide the extensions which are being constantly called for and of which the end is not yet in sight we must have more capital to do it with.

"To foster our ideal of keeping every subscriber a shareholder we have allowed to every holder of four shares a discount of 20 percent off the cost of his telephone, and that this has worked towards the desired end, is conclusively shown by the fact of the great demand there always exists for telephone shares in small lots, and that the number of shareholders is 2,196, being an average of a point over 9 shares each.

"We have now over 12,000 subscribers and it is manifestly impossible that out of the present 20,000 shares each should have four, nor indeed if the number of share is increased to 40,000 as proposed could it be done, but anyhow, it would be something nearer and so would be an improvement on things as they stand."

SHARE DISTRIBUTION

Concerning the second resolution Mr. Holliday said:

"The number of shares offered to shareholders, which is proposed as 5,000. This issue of 5,000 shares will provide us with money enough to go on for sometime. It is proposed to issue these shares at Tls. 70 each, that is to say you pay Tls. 70 for a Tls. 50 share. In putting this before you, your directors think that as even at Tls. 70 the shares are cheap, you should be willing to reinvest in the company a part of the profit you can make should you resell which is the real effect of paying the extra Tls. 20.

"The third resolution is purely formal empowering the directors to deal with the remaining 15,000 shares and this would naturally resolve itself into doleing them out from time to time as money was needed and favorable opportunities of selling presented themselves. All that it appears necessary to say about it is that it strictly follows the precedent followed on two, out of the three previous occasions on which an increase of capital took place."

A further extra ordinary meeting of the company will be held Nov. 4 at 4 p.m., at which time the resolutions will be submitted again to the shareholders for final confirmation.

URGA PEACEFUL UNDER RED RULE

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 15.—Mr. H. I. Harding of the British Legation, Captain A. Nelms of the American Legation Guard and Mr. J. F. Manning returned to Peking last evening from a motor trip to Urga by way of Gobe Desert.

They left Kalgan on September 22 and reached Urga on the morning of the 29th after a slow journey. After a stay of eight days in the Mongolian capital they set out on the return journey on October 6, arriving at Kalgan on the 11th.

They report that conditions in Urga and along the route across Gobe are quiet and gradually approaching normal.

BINET TEST WILL BE EXPLAINED TO AMERICAN WOMEN

Mothers' Department Of American Woman's Club Meets Tomorrow

The Mother's Department of the American Woman's Club will open the fall season at a meeting to be held in the Carlton Cafe at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning. The program will consist of a presentation of the Binet test by Mrs. A. R. Hager. This test is being used by psychologists all over the world for determining mental age and is therefore of deep interest to mothers.

One of the innovations to be introduced this year is the giving of fifteen minutes at each meeting to a review of world events having special bearing on child welfare. Each member is asked to come prepared with an item.

The following officers have been elected to serve through the year: Chairman, Mrs. Fred Van Buskirk; vice-chairman, Mrs. Fred Sites; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. G. W. Gray; Recording Secretary, W. W. Peter; Librarian, Mrs. B. A. Roberts; and Executive Committee, Mrs. R. T. Bryan, Jr., Mrs J. C. Clark, and Mrs. Walter Hiltner.

Club members interested in the work of the department are cordially invited to enroll.

PRINCE OF WALES VISIT ALREADY IS GIVEN PROGRAM

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 8.—The outlines of the plan for the reception of the Prince of Wales, when he visits Japan next Spring, have been decided upon by the Tokio Municipal authorities, says the Yamato.

According to Mr. Nagata, the deputy mayor of the city, the formal reception will take place in the Wrestling Hall at Hyogaku, on which occasion a repast will be served in purely Japanese style, and the Prince will be presented with an Address of Welcome, as well as a set of most brilliantly colored paper screens, embellished according to the traditional Japanese fine arts. The Address of Welcome will be engraved with Japanese characters, and will be presented in a beautifully worked wooden box with appropriate designs painted on the outside by representative artists of the Empire.

When His Royal Highness arrives at Tokio Station, a large number of school children will be amongst those who will assemble on the platform to receive him. These children will sing the British National Anthem as the Prince reviews the Guard of Honor drawn up along the platform.

The Prince will be entertained at a banquet which will be given at the residence of Marquis Mayeda, when His Royal Highness will have an opportunity of observing the typical life of the Japanese nobility. Special receptions will also be given in Kyoto, Nara, and Nikko.

LOCAL LAWYERS WILL CONFER ON LAWS IN PEKING

Peking, Oct. 14.—On Oct. 22, 23, and 24 a conference will be held in Peking of the International Lawyears Union to take up questions relating to the foreign courts and the principles of extraterritoriality.

Six representatives of the American Mixed Court at Shanghai, fourteen Filipino lawyers, fifty-seven Japanese from Seoul and Tokio, and three Russian lawyers from Harbin are expected to attend the conference in addition to the Chinese lawyers in this city.

President Hsu will give a dinner to the members of the conference on October 23, while on October 24 the Premier and the minister of Justice will entertain the visiting lawyers. The members of the Union are themselves planning to entertain all Chinese and foreign newspaper correspondents on the 21st.

The members of the American Bar of Shanghai who will attend the conference are Judge Ross, Mr. L. W. Hartigan, Major Arthur Bassett, Dr. H. C. Mei, Mr. H. D. Rodger, and Mr. E. T. Simmang.

Tuchuns Invited To Meet At Peking

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 17.—The Chinese Government has decided to invite the tuchuns of the various provinces to a conference at Peking when the following questions will be discussed: the Cabinet, Parliament and finance.

KOO BACK IN LONDON

London, Oct. 17.—Dr. and Mrs. Wellington Koo returned to London from Paris this morning.

Students Get Tidy Sum To Aid Work

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, October 16.—The campaign for the work among the students of Peking being conducted by the Peking Christian Student Work Union during this week, will come to a close tomorrow night. No reports are yet available as to the sum which has been raised but according to all indications the quota of $3,100 will be reached. In the campaign held at this time last year over $4,000 was raised. An effort is being made to cover the city of Peking completely through the use of both Chinese and foreign canvassers.

The work of this organisation has now expanded so that some 37 schools and colleges have formed local organisations of their own which are incorporated in the Union which is run by a joint council of Chinese student representatives and representatives from the co-operating churches and the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. Plans have been made this year for further extension of this work as Peking is believed to be the center of the student movement of China which is admittedly an influential and increasingly powerful movement.

The outstanding feature of the Student Work Union last year was its contribution to famine relief which took the form of raising over $5,000 and of enlisting students for work in the famine areas. Another important item on last year's program which will be carried out as much as possible this year is the establishment of scholarships for Chinese students to enable them to go on with their work in higher schools of the city. It should be said that the work of the Union in all its various phases applies to women students as well as to the men and several local organisations have been formed in the girls' schools.

Among the more important institutions which are represented in this work through local bodies and a part of the government of the whole Union are the Peking National University, China University, Peking University, Peking National University, China Univer- and the Union Medical College. The various Protestant churches and mission organisations are all co-operating in the city-wide work.

Students Try To Rob Baron Okura

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 8.—On Thursday morning last, three young men called at the residence of Baron Okura, and demanded admission, requesting an interview with the Baron, and upon being declined on the ground that he was absent, the visitors attempted to force their way into the house.

The astonished servants struggled with the trespassers, and after some difficulty managed to drive them away.

The matter was at once reported to the police authorities, who after strenuous efforts succeeded in identifying and arresting the young men this morning. The offenders are students who, according to their confession, wanted to extort a large sum of money from the Baron ostensibly for charitable purposes.

Seattle Shriners To Hold Ceremony Here

Nile Temple Officers Will Arrive In January To Initiate Big Class

The Nomad Oasis of the Mystic Shrine of Shanghai has received a cablegram from Seattle announcing that the Nile Temple of Seattle will hold the second annual Shrine ceremonial in Shanghai Monday, January 30, 1922.

The divan from the Nile Temple will include six officers who will be accompanied by their wives. The party will arrive on the Keystone State and many affairs will be given in their honor. The class which will be taken into the shrine in January will number from 75 to 100. A banquet, ball and sight seeing trips will be features of the entertainment planned for the visiting Shriners.

The Nomad Oasis is at work on a Minstrel Show, to be given in November or early in December. A Shrine ball is also being planned. All Masons who are Knights Templar or thirty second degree Masons will attend. There are more than 175 Shriners in China.

Chinese Smugglers Will Be Deported

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 14. — Forty-eight Chinese will be deported from Liverpool tomorrow, twelve of whom were arrested in Liverpool and the remainder in other parts of the country as a sequel to the alleged wholesale smuggling of Chinese into the country during the past few months.

WU HOLDS TILL OF RAILWAY AS HE WAITS FUNDS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 13.—Generals Wu Pei-fu, Feng Yu-hsiang and Hsiao Yao-nan are stated to have submitted a request for funds to the Central Government. The revenue from the Southern section of the Peking-Hankow Railway, will, it is understood, be at General Wu's disposal until other funds are forthcoming.

WANT TO STOP SUN

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 15.—General Chang Tso-lin has sent his representative Chang Chung-Chong to meet General Wu Pei-fu in connection with dispatching of Fengtien troops to the South against the Canton expedition.

GUNBOAT NOT FIRED ON

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Ichang, Oct. 14.—H. M. gunboat Cockchafer arrived here this afternoon from Chungking. She reports that she was not fired on and that there are few soldiers on the river banks.

General Lu Hsiang denies responsibility for firing on steamers but has given orders to restrain the soldiers from further molesting them.

Steamers are proceeding to Chungking tomorrow. Passengers are now allowed to proceed here but, if a further stoppage of traffic occurs, they may be required to return down river. Protection is not guaranteed here.

JEHOL FREE OF CHANG

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 13.—It is reported that the last batch of General Chiang Kuei-ti's troops from Shihpaerhtai and Chingpeng have arrived at Miyunhsien, and none of General Chiang's troops are left in the vicinity of Jehol.

General Chiang is understood to have suggested that his headquarters as Inspector-General should be established at Tungchow (North) instead of Peking.

ASK WU'S HELP

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, October 17.—Another war is on in Szechuen and Tuchun Liu Shiang has requested Wu Pei-fu to send troops to help disband Liu's own troops, who were defeated by Wu's soldiers.

Following Wu's victories, the vanquished Szechuenese retreated to their own province and when they reached the border, Tuchun Liu Siang issued orders that they were not to be allowed to enter Szechuen. Now Wu is called upon to disband the troops he defeated because of the numerous clashes.

Wu has given orders to his troops to guard the Hupeh border. They are not to pursue the defeated Szechuenese.

Thread Makers To Cut Id. Per Reel

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 15.—Messrs. J. P. Coats announce a further all-round reduction in cotton thread prices, approximating a penny on a 400-yard reel, which will in future cost 6d.

PREMIER TO COME BACK

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 15.—The Prime Minister, General Chin Yun-peng, will resume his duties in the Cabinet next week.

Mr. Wang Cheng-chuan, who is going as Charge d'Affaires to the Chinese Legation at Copenhagen, left for Copenhagen yesterday.

SZECHUEN SOON TO BE OUT OF HUPEH SAYS WU

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Oct. 14. — Szechuen troops will soon have completely evacuated the western Hupeh area, according to a special wire received at Hankow from Wu Pei-fu. Reparation commissioners have been appointed by Wu for the different districts in order to restore stable conditions there, and to exterminate all sources of further disturbances by the routed soldiers.

Wu Pei-fu is planning to return to Hankow, according to information from Chinese naval sources. Presently he is engaged in discussing peace terms with the Szechuenese, and as soon as anything can be settled he will manage to be back here to readjust the affairs of the central provinces now under his control. Thereafter, the most serious problem for him will probably be the proposed National Convention plan.

The important military posts of Tsekwei and Yehshankwan have all been taken by Wu's troops who are advancing in the direction of Batung. The Szechuenese are in danger of being driven back beyond Wushan.

Afghans Want To Trade With China

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 13.—It is reported that the Chinese authorities at Sinkiang (Chinese Turkestan) have notified the Central Government that Afghan delegates have repeatedly requested them to inform the Government that Afghanistan wishes to open negotiations looking to the establishment of commercial relations between the two countries.

They add, however, that since Afghanistan is on close terms with the Russian Soviet Government they think it inadvisable for China to agree to such a proposal.

I. S. S. PURPOSE

We offer you a plan by which you can FORCE yourself to save more than you will be able to save without a SYSTEM.

Your regular payments should soon give you ENOUGH CASH to carry out your ambition in some respect as: retire, travel or go into business for yourself.

By putting aside only $12.00 monthly you may save $10,600 or more during the same time.

Write us immediately.

Electric Cooking
POINTS THAT COUNT.
Anyone who is sceptical about Electric Cooking—its possibilities, convenience and economy—has only to make a trial of one or two pieces of apparatus to become a pronounced convert.
CLEANLINESS.—There are no smells or noxious fumes; no dust, soot or ashes as with coal.
RELIABILITY.—Electric Cooking appliances are now as strong, serviceable and reliable as the ordinary cooking utensils.
CONVENIENCE.—No fires to light—no matches. Simply a switch to touch.
SAFETY.—Electric Cookers are ABSOLUTELY SAFE in anybody's hands.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

Shanghai, October 17, 1921

Spot bar silver was unchanged and forward up 1/8d. in London yesterday. The New York price advanced to 73 cents and the London-New York cross rate to 389¾. The only changes in the official quotations today were a rise in the Gold Dollar rate to 81 and in the Rupee rate to 286¾. The market at the opening was steady and business in Sterling was done at 4/2¼ for October delivery, 4/1⅜ for December and in Gold Dollars at 81¼ for October and 80¼ for December. Banks however, were not particularly good sellers, rates, therefore, eased off the official Sterling quotation being dropped to 4/1½, the Gold Dollar rate to 80¾ and the Yen rate raised to 59½. After the change in rate business in Sterling was done at 4/1⅜ for October, 4/0¾ for December and in Gold Dollars at 80¼ for October and 79 for December. The market closed on the easy side with buyers and sellers at these rates. China bought silver again in London on Saturday and the market there is reported as being steady.

RED MONGOLS IN URGA HOLD DOWN PARTY OF PRINCES

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 13.—Outer Mongolia is divided into two political camps.

At present the power lies in the hands of the so-called "Red" Mongols who, influenced by the presence of the Soviet army, which is in actual if not de jure control of Urga, are rallying to the slogan "Mongolia for the Mongols." This party desires neither Chinese nor other foreign intervention in the affairs of its country.

It would welcome the opening of trade with China and the rest of the outside world, but opposes any political relations with China other than those of one sovereign state to another

The second party, composed of the older princes who used to govern the country in the days when the Tripartite Agreement was in force and who are now living in political retirement, hopes for the restoration of the terms of the Tripartite Agreement as far as Outer Mongolia and China are concerned. The older princes wish, in other words, once again to become an autonomous state under Chinese suzerainty, with a Chinese President and a small Chinese military guard stationed at Urga.

WANT CONSULS TO COME

At the same time the majority of the leaders of this second and more conservative party are said on the best authority to favor the opening of foreign consulates in Urga and the formation of an international guard representative of the nations having consulates there. The opening of foreign consulates, they claim, would lend dignity and prestige to an autonomous Outer Mongolia, while the presence of foreign consular guards would guarantee the safety of foreign lives and property and thus serve as a stimulus to foreign trade and investment.

The princes' party is at present in political eclipse but it is possible, if not probable, that they will return to power with the next few months, as the hold of the "Red" Mongols depends to a large degree upon the presence in Urga of Bolshevik troops. The Bolsheviks are, however, poorly equipped for a winter in Urga, and it is predicted that climatic and commissariat conditions will cause them to withdraw into their own territory before winter.

Law and order prevail in Urga. The Soviet troops, while extremely youthful, badly armed and inadequately clothed—they wear everything from the garb of a Chinese coolie to the trousers of a Japanese gendarme, supplemented by a British tunic and an American pack—are quiet and orderly and disposed to leave the conduct of government affairs to the Mongols.

KALMUCK IN CHARGE

Command of the Mongol forces in Urga is, however, in the hands of a Kalmuck officer recommended to the present Mongolian Government by the Bolsheviks. This officer acts in the capacity of a provostmarshal, policing the city with Mongol troops and exercising passport control and supervision over the movements of Russians and other foreigners, who are not permitted to travel from one place to another in the country without first notifying him or his agents.

Bolshevik forces in Urga, to the number of 2,000 rank and file, are quartered mainly on the Chinese, each Chinese family or shop having from 3 to 4 of these guests. They are doing next to no business owing to the complete standstill in trade that has existed ever since Baron Ungern captured Urga last February, and this enforced hospitality is a real hardship to them.

Ten Millions Go For Troops And Sinecure Jobs

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 15.—A foreign counsellor of the Government has been quoted as saying that a monthly deficit of more than $10,000,000 in Government expenditure is due to maintenance of sinecures and troops.

He points out that the total number of officers in Chinese officialdom is more than that of the five great powers put together and that the Chinese regular army out-numbers all the rest of the world.

These are the chief evils with the country, while the foreign agression amounts to nothing as compared with the above.

The Chinese Political Stage

BY JOSEF W. HALL

THE feature of the fortnight has been the Chinese Foreign Office's reply to Japan's invitation to negotiate the return of Tsingtao. In this matter as in all others the Chinese government is handicapped by the fact that it is compelled to follow a policy of opportunism, as toward those elements seeking to overthrow it at home as well as toward its opponents in the issue.

The Chinese reply is, therefore, clever, but lacks strength. It does not compromise the government with the popular element which irreconcilably opposes direct negotiation, for it can be construed as a declination of the Japanese invitation, in the sense that it replies by stating how impossible is negotiation, where the parties differ so fundamentally. It avoids giving Japan cause to say that China unreasonably and abruptly refuses to negotiate, for inasmuch as it takes up point by point Japan's conditions, it in itself constitutes negotiation. It throws the burden of concession and further discussion upon Japan. Thirdly, it leaves open the way for China to say to the Washington Conference or League of Nations: You see how utterly divergent are the views of Japan and ourselves, and how utterly hopeless of solution is the question if left to negotiation between us. Therefore you see the necessity of adjudication by an outside tribunal.

It is more true than is generally known that the Chinese Foreign Office gave assurances to Minister Obata, about the time of his return from Japan, that a further invitation from Japan to negotiate would meet with sympathetic response. This change of attitude from the former direct refusal to negotiate was taken under advice of the diplomatic representatives abroad, particularly in London and Washington. The Japanese hold that the Foreign Office has broken faith, or at least has misled them; hence the reticence of Minister Obata officially to receive the reply, and the hints of the Japanese Legation regarding the possible giving out to the press of the unofficial communications over the matter, or at least a story of the communications and conversations leading up to the proffering of the Japanese invitation of September 7. These hints really amount to a threat to expose the dealing of the Foreign Office before the Chinese people. Diplomatic procedure would hardly allow the publication of communications between the Legation and Foreign Office without the consent of the latter. The Japanese Legation might, however, give out a story which would seriously embarrass Dr. Yen before the irreconcilable element.

Japan may ask China to reconsider, or she may make no further advance before Armistice Day. Certain it is, that she will not recede from the line upon which she is determined to continue to fight out the issue: her position by virtue of the Versailles Treaty, taken in conjunction with direct commitments forced or bought from Chinese officials. These commitments are chiefly of two categories, the "Twenty-one Demands" of 1915 which, in anticipation, provide Chinese recognition of all that the peace treaty gave Japan at Chinese expense; and the 1918 discussions with the Chinese Minister to Tokio, Chang Lu, in which the Anfu Government proposed the joint Sino-Japanese operation of the Kiao-Tsi Railway which China now refuses to consider. The Japanese, indeed, claim credit for generosity in suggesting that this joint operation be of a private and commercial nature rather than of a governmental nature, as the Anfus were willing to allow. This "generous" concession carries little weight, as any Japanese participation in the administration of the Shantung Railway would be "private enterprise" in name only.

In any event, Japan rests her case confidently upon the ground that any recognition, sanction, or support by the Washington or any other conference of China's fundamental claim that Japan is without legal right of inheritance to the Kiaochow leasehold nullifies the Versailles Treaty, and places the sanctioning power in immediate opposition to the signatories of that Treaty. These signatories, believes Japan, can be faced with only two alternatives: either to support Japan's position in the Treaty, or to let the Treaty itself go by the board.

The maintenance of this policy by Japan must ultimately force America either to adopt the same sophisticated attitude manifested by the other powers toward the Shantung injustice, or to adopt an open, in place of the present indifferent, attitude of hostility toward the Versailles Treaty. The first means the sacrifice by America of the present particular feeling of gratitude and good will which the Chinese people bear toward her, and the second means, as the Japanese anticipate, the self-alignment of America against the world powers. Unless, of course, the zeal of certain of the other powers for the sanctity of the Versailles pact, and particularly of that portion thereof which redounds solely to the benefit of Japan, suddenly shall wane. For the easiest way out for all concerned: the recession on the part of China from her fundamental position that Japan has not, and never has had, any claim to leasehold rights in Kiaochow, China, it appears, will not take. Therefore the comment of the Peking and Tientsin Times, and other British papers which have been ardent advocates for the rectification of the injustice done China in Shantung, that China "has slammed the door in Japan's face" and the face of the world, and has got herself into a "perilous position." Her diplomatic officials, it is evident, would like to take what they are convinced is the expedient course. But at the last minute, in the face of national sentiment, their determination breaks down.

PARS ON STARS

The only star visible last night to the naked eye was The Evening Star, and its name was not Venus.

In the heavens are stars,
On the boards there are stars,
There are stars that we meet among Shriners;
Then we hear of Jack Tars,
They're the real sons of Mars,
There's The Evening Star with its head-liners.

And we are always seeing stars.

If you look up into the heavens on nights when the clouds are not in evidence—we are able to discern Venus, somewhere near the Moon. Then there is a special constellation known to us as the Ursa Major, more popularly known as Charles Wain. Two of the seven stars composing it are called Pointers. They point to the North Pole. The North Pole wants a lot of teaching, and when you get there you find no pole. Now that is altogether different to the Star that most folk were reaching out for last night in the streets and in the hotels. The Evening Star was within everyone's reach, if he or she had the necessary nickle. And this Star has pointers. It points out all the latest news of the day. It points out most of the humorous features that should make the dullest eyes twinkle. It points out "The Young Lady Across The Way" who daily makes the most obvious remarks—but twists them somewhat. It points out in Zane's clever cartoons the star features that make this city shine.

* * *

Twinkle, twinkle, Evening Star,
Twinkle with your line and par.,
Tell in brief the latest news,
Seek to interest and amuse.

* * *

Evening Star!
Afar!
You twinkle in the sky.
Today
We're gay:
The Evening Star we can buy.
(If not the moon.)

The Evling Star?
Hi, Yah ! ! ! Can do.

I see from the leaderette that The Evening Star made its bow to the public yesterday afternoon. It is the first time that I ever heard of a star bowing. But just one moment. Of course I have seen a star bow. But the star has been called before the curtain by the shouts of approval from the house. Now I savee! The Model Settlement's a stage, and all its many peoples merely playgoers, who call before the curtain of public opinion its favorite The Evening Star.

And though I have nothing whatever to do with the paper, and still am commanded to stick to the sheet upon which the Sun rises, I cannot but help joining with those who would wish that The Evening Star may twinkle, and in first magnitude brilliance, as long as its fellows that we see on clear nights high above us.

Anecdotes Of The Famous

Here is a story about Sir Conan Doyle showing that Sir Walter Scott was not the only example of a schoolboy who failed to impress his master and who ultimately disproved all the unkind things said about him. When Sir Arthur was leaving the school the master sent for him and remarked:

"Doyle, I have known you now for seven years, and I known you thoroughly. I have to tell you that you will never come to any good."

We wonder what the dominie thought when he made the acquaintance, later on, of Sherlock Holmes!

Some writers make money. Some don't. The Irish poet, Mr. W. B. Yeats, tells a good story of Marion Crawford, who was once asked whether he thought his work would live after he was dead.

Mr. Crawford pondered.

"Well," said his fair admirer, amending her question, "do you write with that end in view?"

"My dear madam," replied the author, "what I try to do is to write something that will enable me to live while I am here!"

Italy's Peace With Papacy

Prospect Of Closing The Long-Standing Breach Between The Vatican And Quirinal

BY WALTER LITTLEFIELD
(New York Times)

THE desire for a rapprochement between the civil Government of the Kingdom of Italy and the religious Government of the Roman Catholic Church—between the Quirinal and the Vatican—is again forming the subject of long articles in the Italian press and of speeches at Montecitorio. And now, after a rupture of half a century, the signs seem more propitious than ever before. Many secular papers, led by the Messagero, have pointed out the mutual benefits to be derived from a reconciliation, while the clerical press, led by the Corriere d'Italia and directed by the Osservatore, the organ of the Vatican, have cordially replied by pointing out further mutual benefits.

It is not because today the relations between the Quirinal and Vatican are such as demand immediate readjustment on account of their threatening character, but because the present peaceful situation offers a long-awaited opportunity to abolish certain dangerous potentialities before they can again become active.

The present sympathetic mind has been brought about by various influences: The Vatican, as a foreign Government, in the heart of the capital of Italy was most embarrassing during the war, at times even dangerous to the security of the State; on the other hand, the Vatican found its legitimate freedom of action greatly hampered by the Italian Government in its attempt to provide for that security: nations who had representatives at the Vatican, whether belonging to the German alliance or the Entente, had a distinct advantage over Italy, and this advantage later bore fruit through the work of Mgr. Cerretti at the Peace Conference; finally it has been observed that since France could resume diplomatic relations with the Vatican without abrogating the Associations and Separation Laws, without restoring the Concordat of 1801, Italy might be able to effect a reconciliation without abrogating the Law of Guarantees—Legge sulle prerogative del Summo Pontifice—which initiated the politico-religious schism and caused it to be perpetuated. Nor should sentimental opportunities be ignored, particularly when they excite public imagination: The work of the French soldier priests in the war followed by the canonisation of Joan of Arc silenced objectors in France; the work of Italian soldier priests now soon to be followed by the translation of the body of Pope Leo XIII. from the Vatican to its waiting tomb in the Lateran might produce a similar sympathetic effect upon the Italian mind.

It must be remembered, however, that while the rupture between France and the Vatican could be diplomatically mended, because France had taken nothing from the Vatican which was not essentially French, the rupture between Italy and the Vatican cannot be so easily mended, because it is charged that the Kingdom of Italy has usurped certain prerogatives of the Popes and has deprived them of their temporal power—i.e., the right to administer Italian territory and the inhabitants thereof as sovereigns.

POWER OF PONTIFF

Through the centuries the temporality of the Pontiff was regarded as a secular question by those who disputed it and as a religio-secular question by those who maintained it. It was maintained by force of Papal arms, sometimes in alliance with one sovereign, sometimes with another; sometimes defeat followed by exile or abdication on the part of the Pope, only to be restored with his original authority. But like many other prerogatives exercised by the Popes it lacked Divine authority. It finally became a dogmatic doctrine, but was never to become a dogma.

When on March 17, 1861, the Kingdom of United Italy was proclaimed Pius IX. realised that it would only be a question of time before the Papal States would be invaded and the Eternal City made the capital of the new kingdom. He attempted to avert this in various ways: He had already tried to vie with the King Victor Emmanuel II. as leader for a free Italy; he now promised a constitution with a secular Government for the Papal territory. Finally, he sought the aid of Catholic States abroad, as he felt the inevitable approaching he called together the famous Ecumenical Council in order to have the problem of his temporal power solved forever by having it made a matter of faith.

The bill summoning the council is dated June 28, 1868. It was a counterpart of the invitation of Paul III. to the Council of Trent, only somewhat more diffuse. In it Pius IX. declared: "At this General Council there will be a careful examination and determination of everything that concerns the glory of God, the purity of the faith, the dignity of divine service, the everlasting salvation of men, discipline, a profitable and thorough education of the priesthood, obedience to the laws of the Church, the promotion of morality, the Christian teaching of the young, peace, and above everything unity."

The Council met on December 8, 1869, with an attendance of 1,200 Catholic Bishops, resident and titular. In January there were fewer than 737 in attendance. In July, when the vote on Papal infallibility was taken there were between 539 and 570. It is known, however, that eighty-eight prelates voted against the idea of Papal infallibility, even in spiritual matters, being made an article of faith, a dogma.

In the circumstances, it is perfectly obvious that the question of Papal temporal power could be introduced, for it would have been certain of defeat—just as the other question would have been had a vote been insisted on earlier in the session, for most of the retiring prelates were against it. But documents of the Vatican Council published since 1870 leave no doubt that the proclamation of Papal infallibility was to be followed by a further declaration to the effect that the doctrine of the temporal power of the Pope should be regarded as a revealed article of faith. Few seats were filled on the sweltering Monday of July 18, 1870, when the decree of infallibility was proclaimed with the awful words: Si quis autom huic Nostrae definitioni contradicere, quod Deus avertat, praesumpserit, anathema sit. That is to say: "If any one, which may God forbid, shall have the temerity to contradict our definition, let him be anathema."

So the doctrine of Papal temporality was never elevated to a dogma, but as a doctrine it has been successively insisted upon from Pius IX. to the present Pontiff. Possibly the clearest definition of the Pope's mundane sovereignty was made by Pius X. It is:

"The Pope in his character of monarch has the power to contract or to extend his domains like other monarchs and by treaties with them, but he cannot be deprived of his temporality by force."

Yet, there are other monarchs, who have even claimed the divine right of sovereignty, who have been so deprived. But if some of these monarchs have become reconciled to the new order, the Pope has not. Therein lies the difference. At the same time the declaration of Pope Pius X. cannot be regarded otherwise than as a hint to the Italian Civil Government to initiate negotiations along the lines indicated. Why did it not take the hint? At that time, the Spring of 1904, Italy was feeling the effect of the separation law passed by France. Anti-clericalism had even gone so far as to demand the removal of the Papal See from Italy, and any attempt to effect a reconciliation would possibly have endangered the dynasty, if not the monarchy.

Two days before Pius IX. proclaimed Papal infallibility, Napoleon III. had declared war on Prussia, and the French troops were at once withdrawn from the Civita Vecchia, the Port of Rome. They had already been withdrawn from Rome. Their presence there as protectors of the Pope's temporal power, had been due to the convention of September 15, 1863. This convention consisted of four articles: In the first Italy promised to abstain from attacking the portion of the Papal States which still remained to Pius IX. In the second France promised to withdraw her troops from the Pope's territory by degrees, as the Papal army became organised. The third article prohibited Italy from objecting to the organisation of a cosmopolitan Papal army. In the fourth article Italy declared herself willing to take over a satisfactory portion of the Papal debt in payment for the territory already absorbed by the kingdom.

VICTOR EMMANUEL'S LETTER

On the withdrawal of the French troops Victor Emmanuel addressed a letter to the Pope asking him in the name of religion and peace to accept Italian protection instead of temporal power. His Holiness replied that he would only yield to force. The Catholic sovereigns made no effort to sustain him; on the contrary, they looked upon the occupation of Rome by Italy as political expediency. On September 11, 60,000 Royal troops entered the Papal territory. The garrison at Civita Vecchia, consisting mostly of French, Belgian, Swiss, and Bavarian mercenaries, surrendered, and on September 17 the Eternal City was invested. The Pope's Secretary of State, Cardinal Antonelli, urged the Holy Father to make terms, insisting upon the principle of temporality, with or without contingent territory. The Popes had been deprived of their States in the past and had been restored to them. Why not trust the future? But Pius IX. would make no terms; he ordered sufficient resistance to be made so as to demonstrate that he only yielded to superior force. On September 20 the attack began. When the Italians had made a breach in Porta Pia he ordered the garrison to cease firing. The Royal troops first occupied the left bank of the Tiber. It had been intended to leave the right bank, the Leontine City, to the Pope, but at the urgent request of the latter, who now feared the Roman mob, that was also occupied. A few days later the Romans voted: 133,681 were for union with Italy and 1,507 were against. This is not strange when we consider the character of Papal vicil administration, concerning which the historian, W. J. Stillman, wrote:

If the object of a Government be to administer justice, secure order, and punish or prevent vice and crime, the Papal Government of that date was the worst I have ever lived under, with the exception, perhaps, of that of the Sultan of Turkey while I lived in Crete."

Nearly a year later, on July 2, 1872, urged on by demonstrations all over Italy, not the least pronounced of which were those in Rome, and after repeated attempts to have Pius IX. enter into negotiations so that his exact status as a temporal sovereign might be permanently defined, Victor Emmanuel II. entered the Eternal City amid a fury of enthusiasm and the city was proclaimed the capital of United Italy.

Meanwhile, the Italian Parliament at Florence, the old capital, had set to work to legislate what should be the status of a foreign sovereign upon Italian soil. The Parliament produced, after two months' debate, the famous Law of Guarantees, which was an amalgam of Cavour's "Free Church in a Free State," of Ricasoli's Free Church Bill, and the proposals made the Pope just before the occupation of Rome. It was adopted in secret ballot on March 21, 1871, by 185 votes against 106, and was proclaimed a part of the Italian Constitution on the 13th of the following May. Two days later the Pope repudiated the Law of Guarantees in an encyclical which also summoned the Catholic princes to come to his defense and restore his temporal power. None came.

In order to understand the exact nature of the relations between the Papal Government and the Civil Government of Italy which were henceforth to obtain, it will be found convenient to give a rather comprehensive digest of the Law of Guarantees:

PART I.

Articles 1 and 2 recognize the person of the Pontiff as sacred and intangible, and while providing for free discussion of religious question, punish insults and outrages againts the Pope in the same way as insults and outrages against the King.

Article 3 attributes royal honors to the Pope, who is further guaranteed the same precedence as that accorded him by other Catholic sovereigns, and the right to maintain his Noble and Swiss guards.

Article 4 allots the Pontiff an annuity of 3,225,000 lire for the maintenance of the Sacred College, the sacred palaces, the congregations, the Vatican chancery, and the diplomatic service.

Article 5 exempts from taxation the sacred palaces, museums and libraries, and the Pope is assured perpetual enjoyment of the Vatican and Lateran buildings and Gardens, and of the papal villa at Castel Gandolfo.

Article 6 and 7 forbid access of any Italian official or agent to the above-mentioned palaces or to any eventual conclave or Ecumenical council without the special authorisation of the Pope, conclave, or council.

Article 8 prohibits the seisure or examination of any papers, documents, books or registers of purely spiritual character.

Article 9 guarantees the Pope full freedom for the exercise of his spiritual ministry, and provides for the publication of pontifical announcements on the doors of the Roman churches and basilicas.

Article 10 extends immunity to ecclesiastics employed by the Holy See, and bestows upon foreign ecclesiastics in Rome the personal rights of Italian citisens.

Article 11 places diplomats accredited to the Holy See and Papal diplomats while in Italy on the same footing as diplomats accredited to the Quirinal.

Article 12 provides for the free transmission in Italy of all Papal telegrams and correspondence both with Bishops and foreign Governments and sanctions the establishment, at the expense of the Italian State, of a Papal telegraph office served by Papal officials in communcation with

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Italy's Peace With Papacy

the Italian postal and telegraph system.

Article 13 exempts all ecclesiastical seminaries, academies, colleges and schools for the education of priests in the city of Rome from all interference on the part of the Italian Government.

PART II.

Article 14 abolishes all restrictions upon the right of meeting of members of the clergy.

Article 15 causes the Italian Government to relinquish its rights to apostolic legation in Sicily, and to the appointment of its own nominees to the chief benefices throughout the kingdom; Bishops are further dispensed from swearing fealty to the King, although, except in Rome and its suburbs, the choice of Bishops is limited to ecclesiastics of Italian nationality.

Article 16 abolishes the need for royal exequatur and placet for ecclesiastical publications, but subordinates the enjoyment of temporalities by Bishops and priests to the concessions of State exequatur and placet.

Article 17 maintains the independence of the ecclesiastical jurisdication in spiritual and disciplinary matters, but reserves for the State the exclusive right to carry out coercive measures.

THE LAW OF GUARANTEES

It will be observed from the foregoing why the measure is called a "law" and not a "treaty" —there was only one party concerned in its making. Certain of the articles have been carried out by Pius IX. and his successors, but never those whose acceptance could be construed, even by implication, as a surrender of temporal power. For example, the annuity has never been asked for nor paid. On the other hand, the Italian Government has executed the Law of Guarantees so far as the Vatican would permit it to do so. There is little doubt that it regards the Pope as its tenant or guest, and the palaces and gardens occupied by him as a freehold which would revert to the State on his abandonment. There are several examples of this interpretation, possibly the most convincing of which is to be found in a letter to Leo XIII. by Cardinal Gustav Hohenlohe, dated July 24, 1889. The Cardinal had been accused by the Papal Secretary of State of being too intimate with the Italian Ministers, and he wrote to explain, saying:

"Today we can no more set ourselves apart from the personages of the Italian Government on the Chinese system. God has arranged things in such a manner that the Church can no more take again the temporal power. The salvation of souls demands that we submit and rest tranquilly in the ecclesiastical sphere * * Signor Crispi (the Italian Premier) asked me the other day to inform your Holiness that, if you wish to leave, he will not oppose it, and will have you accompanied with every honor, but your Holiness will never return to Rome * * * the Pope must not be under any illusions, once gone he will never return to Rome, and the Holy See will suffer a terrible blow."

With the death of Pius IX. in 1878, the Papacy of the Middle Ages passed away; his successor Leo XIII., elected Feb. 7, never freed himself from the cerements bequeathed to him. He too became "the prisoner of the Vatican." The past was dead, the era was new, but not the man. The burden of protest, the role of pretender he assumed, or rather accepted; he disliked the monarchy and its dynasty, but he never conspired with Catholic princes to overthrow them .He was the first man to don the tiara of an infallible pontiff, and his mind found expression in a strictly spiritual administration, and hence one not without practical results. Owing to his aloofness in regard to temporal matters, the Papal differences with the State were soon assumed by the Curia, which entered upon a relentless campaign against the State, the dynasty, the king and his court. This aroused a fierce anti-clericalism, a revival of militant Freemasonry, the repercussions of which were still felt in the second year of Pius X.'s Pontificat—in 1904.

As we have already seen, Pius X. practically invited the Quirinal to arrange a conference. He also removed the inhibition on Catholics to take part in the National elections and to be elected Deputies, provided they voted for no law the execution of which would prove to be detrimental to the Church. Pope Benedict XV., who came to the tiara in 1914, went further: He encouraged the formation of a Catholic party, the Partito Popolari, and permitted its members to hold portfolios in the Civil Government, as they have now for a year and more. In these circumstances it is not strange that anticlericalism as a disturbing, political force, should have subsided. There is no plank in the platform of the Popular Party for the restoration of temporal power, just as there was no response made by Pope Benedict, when the German Allies offered it to him. It has been intimated in many ways that the present Pope would be satisfied with the acknowledged principle of temporality, if he could not obtain its actuality. It is believed by many that he already possesses the former by the Law of Guarantees, but the repudiation of Pius IX. still holds.

And so after all, the matter may be reduced to a very simple formula: Let the Pope acknowledge the Law of Guarantees, and let the Italian Government secure him in the possession as owner —not as tenant or guest—of the Vatican, San Giovanni in Laterano, and the Villa at Castel Gandolfo, with such adjacent land as may fully establish the actuality as well as the principle of temporlity. Should the Quirinal approach the Vatican with such a formula, it is belived that Benedict XV. would not turn a deaf ear.

TEXACO

a liquid lubricant for—

Differentials, Worm Drives, and Transmissions of Automobiles

Texaco Thuban Compound is a heavy, mineral lubricant—not a grease.

It gives the best obtainable lubricating service because it sticks to gear teeth. No grade, speed, nor any other adverse condition will make "Thuban" sling off. It forms a protective cushion of oil which prevents metal contact when the gears mesh, thus reducing friction and increasing power. Notice the decrease of noise when "Thuban" is used. There is no clash and grind when the gears shift.

A very little "Thuban" goes a long way. You need only enough to bathe the gear teeth as they revolve in the power housing. This is because of its adhesive power which keeps a film on them at all times. "Thuban" is a real economy because you must use it sparingly for best results.

WHARFAGE AND LANDING CHARGES

Owing to the increased cost of working and maintenance, the undermentioned Wharves find it necessary to raise the charges for WHARFAGE, LANDING and DELIVERY. After careful consideration, they beg to announce that on and after January 1st, 1922, there will be an increase of 10% on the present R. S. and D. tariff, dated January 1, 1920.

STORAGE RATES

A revised tariff for STORAGE is in the course of being drawn up, and will be published as soon as possible, the new rates coming into force on January 1st, 1922, but will not apply to goods placed on Landing Accounts prior to that date.

SILK COMN. BUYS PLACE IN CHEFOO FOR EXPERIMENTS

(China Press Correspondence)

Chefoo, Oct. 11.—An interesting item of local news has been the purchase of Pere Maivel's property by the Chefoo Silk Improvement Commission. This Commission which exists for the improvement of the silk industry in Chefoo has not found it easy to get a suitable property for its experiments but the purchase of Pere Maivel's estate provides it with just the district it needs.

Its late owner was a well-known resident and one of the French Fathers. For some time he has devoted his attention to his estate. He had a spacious residence, a chapel and small houses for visitors. In the summer months he usually had the place full and it was extraordinary what a number of folk found their way to Pere Maivel's.

The grounds are extensive and well laid out, while the Roman baths were a source of delight in the summer months. It is said that the Improvement Commission paid $100,000 for the property.

Chefoo residents who know how persistent have been the efforts of the local Silk Improvement Commission praise the able manner in which the members of the Commission have worked to achieve their objects and it is thought that now they have been able to buy this valuable property, they will be able to accomplish still greater things than in the past.

BANK SCARE OVER

The scare about the Weihaiwei and Agricultural Bank is something of the past. The Bank reopened a few days ago and redeemed notes etc. paying out the dollars as they were required. There may still be some who are a little afraid of accepting the notes but they are only a few. It is now known that the notes are safe. The Bank has survived the crisis of such it can be turned.

The Chefoo Daily News has a new editor. He is Mr. Wm. Cornwell, an American. He believes that he can make the paper a paying concern and has plans for enlarging the circulation. Residents are grateful to him for taking on a position that is obviously not a lucrative one. His offering to accept the vacancy means that Chefoo will not lose its foreign paper, and still be able to read the daily news of the world.

The weather today is very cold. There has been another sudden change. Tennis will soon have to be stopped. Football is about to begin. This indicates the approach of winter even if the drop in the temperature were not sufficient to remind one that wintery days soon will be here.

GIVES MEMORIAL WINDOW

Mr. Casey, one of our prominent residents has just got from Great Britain a beautifully stained glass window, which he has had placed in St. Andrew's Church. It has been presented by him to the Church in memory of his wife. A fine piece of work, it enhances the beauty of the building, and those who attend the services there cannot but feel, when they see the window, that it is indeed a most magnificent piece of work. Its device is that of St. Cecilia. The service to mark the dedication of the gift is to be held when the newly ordained Bishop of the Shantung Diocese visits Chefoo.

Football is to commence here in a few days. Little is known about the teams, which the Settlement and the School can rely upon. The matches between them will be renewed on Saturday afternoons. These are quite a popular feature of the life of the port in winter and many turn out to see the contests. Last season a game was played between the Settlement and the Chinese.

Tsining Plans To Open New Y.M.C.A.

(China Press Correspondence)

Tsining, Oct. 13.—At a recent meeting of leading business men and representatives from the three Protestant Missions in Tsining, a temporary Y.M.C.A. was formed, and the following officers were elected:

President, Board of Directors, Rev. Liu Yien-t'ing, Pastor Chinese Presbyterian Church. Vice-president, Rev. Liang En-po, Pastor Methodist Chinese Church; Treasurer, Mr. Yu Nai-chu, American Southern Baptist Church, and Asst. treasurer Rev. Frank H. Connely; Recording Secretaries Mr. Chang Ching-ming, Methodist Church and Rev. W. W. Johnston, American Presbyterian Church, North.

The acting general secretary will be Rev. W. W. Johnston who will have as assistants Rev. Liang En-po, Rev. Frank H. Connely, Mr. Swen Wen-k'wei and Mr. Mao Shu-t'ing.

Rev. Mr. Liang is allowing the present organisation to make its temporary headquarters in the Methodist center, located on Main Street, inside the South Gate. A request has been sent to Mr. David Z. T. Yui, General Secretary, National Committee, Shanghai, asking for a foreign Secretary to aid in this great opportunity.

FIFTEEN SCHOOLS JOIN TO HONOR NATION'S BIRTH

(China Press Correspondence)

Tsining, Oct. 13.—The celebration of the Tenth Anniversary of the Chinese Republic was held in the Shantung Seventh Middle School, Tsining. All the teachers and students of Laughlin Academy, Djung Si Middle School, Dai Djuang Middle School, Industrial School, Shantung Seventh Middle School, Ming De School, three higher primary schools, Normal School, Model School, Agriculture School, Kenarden Girls' School, and Kun Ya Girls' School assembled at 8 a.m. A number of business men were present also. The exercises were opened with instrumental music followed by the singing of the national anthem. Then all arose and saluted the Chinese flag by bowing three times.

Mr. Kung, the Principal of the Shantung Seventh Middle School, who is a direct descendant of Confucius, first made a speech, setting forth the reasons why the anniversary should be celebrated. He was followed by Mr. Djang, teacher of the Ming De Methodist School, who gave a resume of the important events of the Chinese Republic from its inception, and said China's greatest menace was not Japan, or any outside country, but her own citizens, because of their lack of unity, and love of country, and urged a cultivation of both.

Then Mr. Feng, teacher of Laughlin Academy (Presbyterian), and Mr. Djang, teacher of Kenarden Girls' School (Presbyterian) spoke. Each of the speakers emphasised patriotism, encouraging all to take part with the country in the present crisis. All present were deeply impressed and the hand clapping was loud and prolonged. After a photograph was taken of those present, they shouted three times: "Long Live the Chinese Republic."

In the evening the students had a lantern procession. Assembling in the North Gate of the City at 6 o'clock they marched through the principal streets of the City, from suburb to suburb, blowing bugles and beating drums. Each student brought a red lantern with him and every school had prepared two large ones. There were about 2,000 students in the procession, and they marched steadily, exposed to a drizzling rain, until 9 p.m. when they disbursed.

Siccawei Weather Reports

16.—The anticyclone is central over Japan. The northern depression has apparently split into two centers; one passing north of Vladivostok, the other extending over the Mean Yangtsze Valley. The Guam typhoon is crossing the 20th parallel NNW-wards. SEly breezes all over the China coast. Gloomy, damp, warmer and rainy weather in our regions clearing up a bit in the afternoon. Fine and sunny in Formosa and northern China.

17.—Overcast, misty and showery weather. The temperature has increased and the pressure is below the average but slightly rising. Southerly wind.

Mongols Prefer Soviet Rule To China's, Say Travelers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 13.—Messrs. H. I. Harding and J. F. Manning and Captain Nelms returned to Peking last evening after a brief visit to Urga. While on the way to Urga they were joined by Messrs. Brander, of S. L. Wooden and Co., C. R. Gish, Standard Oil Company, and J. D. Jewell, Andersen, Meyer and Co.

No stirring adventures occurred on the way to Urga, during the party's stay at the northern capital or on the way back, but the excursion is described as most interesting.

On arrival at Urga all visitors are called before the town Commandant, a Kalmak, who closely questions the visitors regarding their business. Before leaving Urga it is necessary to secure a passport from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, which gives authority to travel in any part of Mongolia.

Asmall fee is charged for the passport which can be obtained for any period up to one year. Visitors are also required to pay a five percent duty based on local prices on all goods taken to Urga, including foodstuffs and petrol necessary for the return journey. Extraterritoriality is not recognised in Urga.

STORES STILL OPEN

Some of the Chinese stores in Urga are still open. Many have closed down owing to lack of provisions and other supplies, but there is a fair stock of local produce. Apart from the absence of imported goods there appears to be no impediment in the way of trade, but it would certainly be in the nature of a gamble for firms to send goods to Urga for sale, owing principally to the fact that in addition to the numerous regulations and local laws that have been imposed in Urga new ones may be enforced at any time with regard to the sale price of goods.

It seems that hitherto it has only been necessary for some one to point out that a regulation is in force in Russia for it to be adopted in Urga, while the old Mongol regulations are still in force, and there is a suspicion that some Chinese and Japanese regulations have also been adopted with some impartiality. The result is somewhat confusing to the new arrival.

No goods are now being received from China and but little from Russia. Old stocks consist chiefly of tinned goods for which there is but small demand, but there would be a ready market for manufactured articles at a much greater price than they can be purchased for at Kalgan.

LAW AND ORDER PREVALENT

Amid the confusion of new laws and regulations law and order prevail to a marked degree. The Hutukhtu is still nominal Ruler, and Boda, the Premier, is said to be a Lama, but he does not wear the Lama dress. He is a man of about thirty-five years of age and is described as an intelligent man of some character.

Sukebatr, Minster of War Serendorje, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Danzan, Minister of Finance, are not at Urga as they recently left there for Moscow with the object of negotiating a treaty with Soviet Russia. Prince Jonin, a man of the old school, accompanied the three members of the Cabinet to Russia. These four principal delegates are accompanied by several other Mongol officials.

The Mongol people speak as though they were assured that Mongolia would ultimately form a part of Soviet Russia, and are emphatic in stating that it will never come again under the rule of China. As has been stated by other travellers from Urga, however, it is believed that the present regime will last only as long as the Soviet troops stay at Urga. Their withdrawal would probably be the signal for a rising engineered by the Reactionary Mongols, including the Princes and Lamas.

RUSS POLICE SERVE MONGOLS

Among all the Russian officers in Urga there is only one from Chita. He was formerly an officer of the Imperial Guard and served under Admiral Koltchak. His brother was killed by the Reds. He says he is not a Communist but a Social Revolutionary. All the others repognise only the authority of Moscow.

There are a number of Russian police in the service of the Mongol Government, and at night the town is patrolled by parties of four men, two Russians and two Mongols. The official representative of Moscow is a man named Yudin, who describes his post as representative of the Commissariat of Foreign Affairs of Soviet Russia.

Some of the Mongols in Urga have been through the Soviet Propaganda School at Moscow. A weekly newspaper is published in the Mongol language at Urga, to replace a similar organ previously issued at Moscow. The great majority of the Mongols, however, show no knowledge of the Bolshevist principles beyond the belief that old time laws may now be disregarded and that the Red faith carries with it licence to satisfy their own desires at the expense of others who are not Reds.

WELCOME CHINESE TROOPS

The Chinese residents of Urga have still to maintain the Red troops and Urga is the one place in the world where Chinese civilians would welcome the arrival of Chinese troops. For in their previous occupation of Urga the Chinese troops dealt severely with Russians and Mongols but maintained good relations with their own countrymen. The Mongols complain more bitterly of the facts that they were not allowed to ride in Urga or carry their hunting knives than of the seizure of their horses and cattle by the Chinese soldiers.

Over all the public buildings in Urga now flies the square yellow flag of the Mongolian Republic. At the Ministry of Justice Mongol Magistrates deal out rather lenient punishment to offenders against social laws and regulations and other culprits. The Court House and the Ministry of Justice are in the same building, over which presides Maqsur, Minister of Justice, a genial person whose chief drawback is said to be inebriation.

There are three battalions of Red infantry still in Urga, each consisting of 450 men, under the command of Grimoneff, Regimental Commander. The Chita Cavalry Bridage returned to Chita some time ago.

Baron Laveroff and Mr. Tiesenhausen have been sent to Chita and will go on to Moscow to give evidence against General Ungern, for whom a great state trial is being arranged at Moscow. It is predicted by the Red officers in Urga that Ungern will ultimately be committed to a lunatic asylum, and not executed. Records of an enormous number of his crimes are being sent to Moscow, evidently with the intention of showing that his outrages outrivalled all others since the inauguration of the republic in Russia.

Smuggle Dope In, Bogus Coins Out, Of Bilibid Prison

Manila, Sept. 28.—While prisoners going out have carried away counterfeit coins, prisoners coming in have been trying to bring opium and other dope into Bilibid jail. Through the co-operation of the Manila secret service, three Chinese prisoners have been caught in the act of attempting to smuggle opium and morphine into the prison.

Lim Po Chun, Co Chang and Chua Hong, the three prisoners, were brought to Bilibid Saturday after having been sentenced in court for various offenses, principally violations of the opium law. On being carefully searched, some mysterious substances were found on htem. These were turned over to the secret service. The bureau of science was aked to analyse the stuff, and in each reported the present of opium or morphine.

It is understood that additional arrests in connection with the opium-smuggling activities at Bilibid will be made in the near future. Investigation of the counterfeiting operations for which several prisoners and one guard have already been held, is continuing. Interesting developments are expected in connection with this case.
